157th Annual Convention

Journal of Proceedings

CHURCH OF THE HOLY TRINITY, PHILADELPHIA,
 MONDAY, MAY 5, 1941, 5 P. M.

The One Hundred and Fifty-seventh Annual Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Pennsylvania assembled as above in accordance with the Resolution of the Last Convention.

The Bishop of the Diocese opened the Session with the Creed and Prayers.

A Quorum being present, the Rev. Richard J. Morris was duly elected Secretary and the Rev. John R. Huggins appointed Assistant Secretary of the Convention.

The Rev. J. M. Niblo presented the REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE DISPATCH OF BUSINESS
 which was adopted:

Your Committee presents herewith its suggested program for the dispatch of business during the Convention with some necessary changes from that mailed to the Deputies.

In order to expedite the order of business, your Committee suggests that all Reports be made by Title where feasible, and as an effort is to be made to transact the work of Convention in one full day, that discussion be curtailed as far as possible.

Should the Business of the Convention be not completed at 5.30 P. M. on Tuesday, May 6, 1941, a Recess shall be taken at that hour until 7.45 P. M. Should further time be required, Convention shall meet again on Wednesday, May 7, 1941, at 9.30 A. M.

The Rev. C. H. Long presented the

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON ARRANGEMENTS
which was adopted.

The Secretary read the Canon of Courtesy, as follows:

Clergymen canonically resident in this Diocese but not entitled to vote in the Convention, Clergymen of other Dioceses of this Church, Candidates for Holy Orders in this Church, Wardens of Missions other than those entitled to send Deputies, and all persons holding any office or trust under the Convention, including the Lay Members of the Standing Committee, the Officers of the Executive Council and the Superintendent of the Philadelphia Protestant Episcopal City Mission, though not members, shall be admitted to seats and have a voice in the Convention, but not the right to vote.

The Secretary read the Report:

The Secretary of the Convention reports

That during the past year he has fulfilled his duties as prescribed by the Constitution and Canons so far as possible.

That under date of March 3 he sent out the Calls and other Documents for the Annual Convention.

That on February 1 only 35 of the Annual Reports of the Parishes and Missions had been returned out of the 225 due, many of them being very incomplete. He would remind you again that the Report blank must be completely filled out, as all the figures are required for the Report to the General Convention and are a permanent record of the whole activities of the Parishes and Missions. This is the Report of the Parish and not merely of the Accounting Warden.

That boxes for the Registration of the Clerical and Lay Deputies have been placed in the vestibules of the Church and all Deputies should register at once.

That the following is the Unfinished Business from the Annual Convention of 1940:

Faith, Brookline; S. Gabriel, Feltonville; S. George, Richmond; S. John, Essington; S. Mary Annunciation, Philadelphia; Transfiguration, Philadelphia.

The Rev. F. C. Hartshorne offered the following Resolution which was adopted:

WHEREAS, For the most part, these 62 parishes and missions are very properly not deprived of their lay right to vote in Convention; Now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That parishes who are trying to pay their way, without becoming a charge upon Sustentation or Convocation, be permitted to vote at Convention and all Diocesan gatherings, without challenge from anyone, so long as their financial condition is such that to pay their Diocesan assessments they would have to obtain Sustentation or Convocation aid; or go into debt.

The Secretary reports further:

The Committee on Charters has considered the application of the "Rector, Church Wardens, and Vestry of St. John's Church, Lower Merion, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania" for approval of amendments to their Charter providing for a change in the name of the Corporation to "St. John's Church, Lower Merion, Pennsylvania"; for a wider suffrage in the election of Vestrymen; and for perpetual existence. Providing also that the dates for the meetings of the Vestry, and the date of the Annual Meeting of Members be fixed by the By-Laws of the Parish rather than the Charter.

1. Amend Canon I by repealing it and substituting therefor the following:

CANON I

OF THE ADMISSION OF A CHURCH OR CONGREGATION INTO UNION WITH THE CONVENTION

PROCEEDURE

SEC. I.

1. When any Church or Congregation which has been organized under Articles of Association or a Charter prior to the year 1941 shall desire to be admitted into union with the Convention of this Diocese, it shall present to the Bishop, at least sixty days before the meeting of the Convention, an application therefor in writing, signed by its authorized officers and accompanied by its Articles of Association or its Charter, or a duly authenticated copy thereof, together with evidence that the Articles of Association or Charter conform to the requirements of Article IV, Sec. 2, of the Constitution, and that it has complied with such of the provisions of the Canon On the Organization of New Parishes as may be applicable to the case. Such application, with the accompanying documents, and with his approval or disapproval of the same, shall be submitted by the Bishop to the Standing Committee, and by them to the Committee on Charters, with the Standing Committee's approval or disapproval of the same. The application, with reports thereon by the Bishop, the Standing Committee and the Committee on Charters shall be submitted by the latter to the Convention, for final action thereon. If the Convention shall, by vote, approve of the application and admit the Parish into union with the Convention of this Diocese, its name shall be added to the roll of parishes in union with the Convention and its Deputation, if any be present, shall be admitted to seats but not to votes at that Convention.

2. When any Parish which has been organized in conformity with the provisions of the Canon On the Establishment of New Places of Worship, and of the Canon On the Organization of New Parishes, and has obtained the approvals therein called for, shall desire to be admitted into union with the Convention of this Diocese, it shall present to the Bishop at least sixty days before the meeting of the Convention an application therefor in writing, signed by its authorized representatives, together with evidence that it has been organized in accordance with the provisions of the above mentioned Canons, and that its proposed Charter has been approved as therein provided for, and that it conforms to the requirements of Article IV, Sec. 2, of the Constitution. The application and accompanying documents, together with the proposed Charter, shall be reported by the Committee on Charters to the Convention for final action thereon. If the Convention shall vote to approve the proposed Charter and to admit the Parish into union with the Convention of this Diocese its name shall be added to the roll of Parishes in union with the Convention and its Deputation admitted to seats and votes in subsequent Conventions if and when the Secretary of the Convention has been informed by the Chancellor that the Parish has obtained and had recorded a Charter substantially in the form approved by the Convention.

3. All essential documents in connection with the admission of Parishes into union with the Convention shall be filed with the Registrar of the Diocese.

EVERY year there are anniversaries and dedications, at which in most cases your Bishop is present and takes part.

On May 23 we celebrated the 25th anniversary of the Ordination to the Priesthood of the Rev. Wm. T. Metz and the 25th anniversary of the founding of St. Gabriel's Mission, of which he has charge.

On June 23 there was the 85th anniversary of the Church of St. John the Baptist, Germantown.

On October 28, the 20th anniversary of St. Giles, Stonehurst.

On January 5, the 25th anniversary of the Rev. Percy R. Brown's rectorship of All Saints Church, Torresdale.

On May 29 I dedicated St. Christopher's Hall for work among the colored people.

On June 22 I dedicated the Bishop Rhinelander Memorial Tablet at the Cathedral.

On September 28 I dedicated the Chapel of St. Michael and All Angels at the Cathedral.

On September 29 I dedicated a new lighting system at Holy Trinity Memorial Chapel in memory of Mrs. Margaret Dougherty.

On October 29 I dedicated the Kline Memorial Infirmary at the House of Rest for the Aged.

On November 14 I dedicated a chapel and altar at the House of Prayer, Branchtown.

On April 29 I dedicated the new home of the Churchwoman's Club and attended its 25th anniversary celebration.

There were dedicated three memorial windows at Christ Church, Upper Merion, one in memory of the Rev. Wm. W. Taylor; one in memory of the Rev. A. A. Marple (both of whom were former rectors of the parish); and one in memory of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Paist. A memorial flagstone path also was dedicated in memory of Mrs. Ella H. Potts.

The organ at the Church of the Incarnation, Drexel Hill, was rebuilt at a cost of $1600, the money for which has been raised.

In an apocryphal story of an assembly of Satan and his cohorts, each reported what he had done to destroy Christianity. One rejoicingly said, "I saw a large body of Christians assembled in a church, and I set fire to the building and destroyed them all." Satan cried out in his anger, "Fool, do you not know that in doing that you fixed their hear'ts upon those things that neither moth, nor rust, nor fire can destroy?" Another said, "I saw a party of Christians in a boat and I called up a storm and all were drowned." Again Satan cried out, "Foolish one, you have taken them out of the world, where temptation might have led them away from God, and have handed them into His keeping." A third one said, "I was at an assembly of Christians and I put them all to sleep," and all Hell resounded with the shouts of joy as Satan said, "Wise one, in this way alone can the Christian lose his soul."

We are endeavoring that the Christians of this Diocese shall not lose their souls by falling asleep. In this report it is hoped that the record of accomplishment, and the opportunities still open, will rouse the drowsy ones, until at length every member shall be a regular contributor both of himself and his substance.

First of all, as the purpose of the establishment of the Church was not simply our own up-building, but making Christ known wherever man is found, it is a joy to announce that we met our promise to the National Council—$118,810.71—and gave a like sum to the missionary work in the Diocese.

Second, though we are neither numerically nor financially one-tenth of the Church in America, yet when a special call is made Pennsylvania has generally assumed one-tenth of the amount promised by the whole Church. At the General Convention of 1937, when the Church called for $300,000 to help the starving Chinese, Pennsylvania promised and sent $30,000 in addition to the regular contribution. At the Convention of 1940 when the Church asked for $300,000 for the support of the missions of the Church of England, Pennsylvania subscribed $30,000; but when the funds were collected we sent $35,984.09 for that object, in addition to the regular contribution. In addition, many churches purchased ambulances and rolling kitchens for Britain. God grant that it may always be thus missionary-minded.

Third, some of the most important laymen of the community are giving large portions of their time to the work of the Church. Our Chancellor, the Hon. Roland S. Morris, is always courteous and prompt in advising the Bishop on legal matters in the Diocese; our splendid Treasurer is Mr. Arthur V. Morton; Mr. Joshua Ash Pearson, the faithful and efficient chairman of Finance; our devoted Vice-President of the Executive Council, Mr. Spencer Ervin, who spends almost his entire time in the Church House and brings to his labor a trained legal mind, a gentlemanly decorum and a devout spiritual life; not to speak of a multitude of others who, as members of our many departments, do a manful work for the advancement of the Kingdom of God. To these the Bishop feels devoutly grateful and prays God that they may all be long spared to us. I know of no Bishop who has a finer set of clergy and laity.

Christian Social Service and Institutions

Our Department of Christian Social Service and Institutions, under the able leadership of the Hon. Clinton Rogers Woodruff, has been declared by experts to be the best in the country. The Chairman of the Committee writes: "Some years ago Bishop Rhineland called this Department the 'Bishop's Eye' because it always had its eye on social movements and social developments with a view to giving advice or suggestion, as the situation seemed to demand. This is a most important function, especially when the state and national legislatures are in session. When one recalls that there are 1237 bills pending in the House of Representatives and 588 in the Senate, not to mention the several hundred resolutions, some idea of the size of the task may be gathered. There is pending in the present session a Marriage Code, which on the whole is an admirable measure, but it may be so amended as to undo our work of years in requiring the three-day wait between the application for a marriage license and the requirement for a physical examination before the issuance of the license. Among the numerous interests which demand our attention are: Salacious Publications; Refugees; Racial Problems; Parole; Youth in Crime; Recreation for Service Men; Chapels in Penal Institutions; Child Labor; Social Insurance; Prison Reform; Committee on Nominations; Sterilization. Moreover, the Department cooperates with the National Department, the State and City Federations of Churches, and seeks to bring our Church institutions into closer and more effective affiliation."

The Church Periodical Club

When the call came from the newly built "Tucker Lodge," named in honor of our Presiding Bishop, at Shrine Mont, for books for the Library, the Church Periodical Club of the Diocese of Pennsylvania responded with 514 books which represented every parish and mission in the Diocese. One hundred per cent of the parishes and missions responded to this appeal.

Department of Religious Education

Religious Education is one of our most active, valuable and effective Departments. Very large numbers attended our Summer and Winter Conferences. The Department writes: "Our Department is a busy group. Some sixty people are working on the various activities during the year, such as promotion of the Lenten Offering; the great presentation services; the Summer and Winter Conferences; vacation Church schools. The well equipped office and efficient staff are ready to give the visitors worthwhile assistance in their religious education work. Despite many visitors, the Department feels that there are many who do not know of all it has to offer. Therefore, representatives are calling on all the rectors with an exhibit showing materials that are available for use with all age groups. They are also asking for suggestions as to how the Department may be more useful. Our Youth Commission has quickly taken up the program of the United Movement of the Church's Youth which was initiated at General Convention. The response from the young people of the Diocese has been very good. The Church School by Mail has grown during the year: 319 children have been ministered to; 93 of these children were transferred to the nearest Church School as soon as they showed a definite interest and found the means of transportation. The Diocesan Summer Conference at Ursinus College had another good session. I would urge you to send as many of your parishioners as possible for the inspiration and experience, Christian fellowship and knowledge gained."

Our children's Lenten Offering, always the largest in our land, showed considerable improvement in the last year. I wish something could be done to increase the number of children attending our Church Schools. To have less children attending than we have communicants on our list, does not argue well for the future of our Church.

College Work

A fine work is being done in some of our colleges. The Rev. J. Jarden Guenther is splendidly attending to Swarthmore College in conjunction with his rectorship at Trinity Church, Swarthmore. The Rev. James Howard Jacobson is doing a notable work at the University of Pennsylvania, conducting the service of Holy Communion daily in the Chapel, contacting students and locating them in parishes, keeping alive their responsibility for Sunday worship, holding private confirmation instruction with four one-hour-a-week sessions for 25 of the 30 school weeks (we return candidates to their own parishes for the laying-on-of-hands); interviewing countless numbers of students in an effort to resolve religious doubts and assist them in securing a greater intellectual foundation for their faith. Weekly luncheons are sponsored at the Christian Association, followed by speakers who address the students on religious subjects. A home environment is provided for away-from-home students in having one or two different students for dinner several evenings a week and also having a weekly "Open House."

Forward In Service

Very competent and conscientious men are in charge of the Forward in Service plan in this Diocese. This is a ten-year plan suggested by the Presiding Bishop. He writes: "The joy and happiness and freedom which but a short while ago were the birthright of men are today gone for many. What are you and I going to do about this? How can we face the situation and take our part, individually and collectively, in working out the destiny of mankind? It was during another period of turmoil and crisis that Christ made His appearance among men. The world seemed doomed. But He changed the course of events and the course of history in such a way as to make possible the Christian way of life. Today that Christian way of life is endangered. Today God is calling us Christians of America to cooperate with Him in saving it. In His name, I summon you to do your part in this task. It can be accomplished if each of us will re-dedicate himself completely to Christ. 'Thy will be done' must be the supreme law of our lives. To that re-dedication your Church calls you, and I am sure you will gladly answer: 'Here am I. Send me.' I think we can all assure Bishop Tucker of our readiness to follow his plan."

Budget Economies

To assure meeting all our obligations, we have reduced our contribution to parishes and missions 10 percent. This in no sense means a reduction of the already meager salaries of the clergy but a request to the missions to add 10 percent to their givings. This we think comparatively easy, if all members will cooperate; and we feel sure when they sense the condition, they will be most ready and happy to do so.

The Bishop's Fund

The only regular source of income to the Bishop's Discretionary Fund is the loose offerings at Confirmation services. Sometimes these offerings are surprisingly small, even from comparatively large churches. In many cases no statement is made of the object; in other cases a simple statement is made that it is for the Bishop's Fund, which some might interpret as his salary. Great and almost constant demands are made upon this fund, and there are many things the Bishop would like to do for his clergy which are simply impossible. I hope that this mere statement will greatly improve the offerings.

Endowment of the Episcopate

With our more than a century and a half of history, the Endowment of the Episcopate is less than $100,000. In that length of time we have probably given more for missions than almost any Diocese, and saved less for ourselves. I am glad it is so, but I think more provision should be made, that we might reduce the assessments on some of our churches.

The Girls' Friendly Society

The president reports the Girls' Friendly Society in Pennsylvania this year celebrated the fifty-fifth anniversary of its organization. The offering at the Anniversary Service, which amounted to one hundred forty seven dollars, was presented to the Diocesan Altar Guild for purchasing portable altars for use by Episcopal chaplains in the Army and Navy.

During the year the Society continued and enlarged all its general program of worship, missions, social service, recreation, leadership training, and cooperation with the Woman's Auxiliary and the Supply Bureau in sewing and box work.

Most noteworthy of the new projects are:

I. Launching of a series of pilgrimages to study Christian Symbolism and the art of worship in our own and other faiths. Included are visits to a Hebrew Synagogue, a Roman Catholic and a Swedenborgian Cathedral. The aim of these pilgrimages is educational and the development of religious tolerance.

II. Sending one of the members, with all expenses provided, to work for the month of August in the mission community center at Dante, in the mountains of Virginia.

III. Cooperation with the National Society in building a high school for girls in Chennan, Free China; in supplying the salary for a social worker in a migrant center; and in sending twelve hundred dollars to the Girls' Friendly Society in Great Britain at Christmas time.

IV. The Committee on Christian Social Relations, with the aid of civic organizations, organized monthly forums on such subjects as Social Diseases, Race Relations, and Consumer Research.

V. A growing consciousness of the Christian responsibility of war relief work. A knitting unit has been established under the British War Relief Service; 60 filled bags for refugees in Britain were sent through the Emergency Aid Society at Christmas time; furnishings for seven hospital beds for Britain at a cost of $280, were supplied through the efforts of older members; a fund of $400 is nearly complete for a mobile kitchen trailer for Britain. This sum will be matched by a friend, when complete, for a second kitchen.

VI. A member of the Friendly in this Diocese is one of two Provincial representatives for all youth organizations on the newly formed National Youth Commission.

VII. The Presiding Bishop inspired the Society, in his sermon, to Go Forward in Service, and a clergyman of the Diocesan Commission for Forward in Service will present concrete ways for the Society to actually accomplish this at the Annual Leadership Conference in Cape May in June.

Respectfully submitted,

HELEN LAMB HALL

The Woman's Auxiliary

The Woman's Auxiliary reports another year of loyal cooperation from 208 branches in 205 parishes, missions and chapels, and two new branches recently organized in St. Philip's, New Hope, and Manoa; also a new evening branch at All Saints, Darby. As Auxiliary to the National Council, we are committed to the whole work of the Church through prayer, study, service and gifts, which, to be as effective as possible, must be in close cooperation with our diocesan responsibility. This program is being carried out by our junior groups, both those meeting in the day and in the evening. A recent change in by-laws has been made, bringing the Auxiliary in line with the set-up of the National Council of five departments: Missions, Christian Education, Christian Social Relations, Promotion, and Finance. Responsibility for the Elizabeth Price Martin League for Service (the official organization of social service in the Auxiliary), diocesan institutions and all other social relations, including Christian Family Life, are now in this department. The Triennial Meeting in Kansas City committed us to cooperation and support of the Presiding Bishop's Ten Year Plan for Forward in Service; the offering for British Missions; the study of the unified parish, the responsibility to be informed about the United Youth Movement, and to further the cause of unity through fellowship with members of other denominations. Active efforts have been made along all these lines.

A brief financial summary shows the Auxiliary to have contributed last year:

$21,994.29 which has counted on parish quotas
27,786.00 for United Thank Offering
4,281.42 for Specials in both Diocese and General Church

Total $54,061.71

In addition, $9,715.63 in sewn and knitted garments were made by parishes and sent into the mission field through the Supply Department. On May 1 $10,719.35 was presented as the first United Thank Offering of the Triennium.

Episcopal Hospital The crowning charity of the Diocese is the Episcopal Hospital, one of the largest, finest and most liberal hospitals in the world. Founded by that Great Masterbuilder, Bishop Alonzo Potter, it has served the Diocese magnificently for 89 years. Years ago there was great liberality on the part of churchmen and a large endowment fund was acquired. In the depression, values of investments decreased, and now interest is so small and living contributions quite inadequate, and the hospital can only meet its needs by using undesignated legacies. This is like killing the goose that lays the golden eggs, and prevents further additions to an already inadequate endowment. The Church has never received State aid, as it does not want political interference, and it has an ambition to support its institutions. The president of the board writes: "The operating expenses of the Hospital have risen from $418,000 in 1932 to a high of $513,000 in 1940. During this same period the operating income of the Hospital increased from $133,000 to $268,000, an increase of $135,000. During this period our income from church contributions (and to a very small degree from other donations) varied between a low of $21,000 and a high of $34,000. Last year such contributions amounted to $27,000. Our real trouble in these last nine years has been the extremely severe decline in our income from investments: in 1932 we received $240,000 from our investments, and last year we received only $190,000, a decrease of $50,000. The result of last year's operations left us with a deficit for the year of $48,000. This deficit must be met from our general fund: and our additions to the general fund last year amounted to only $21,000, which meant that we had to dip into our principal to the extent of $27,000. A continuation of such a line of action will inevitably cause serious consequences. If we are unable to obtain additional revenue from some other sources, the hospital will slowly deteriorate, and its service to the community eventually will become worthless. It is the unanimous hope of the Board of Managers that the Diocese will be able to furnish the additional funds in order to continue its growing and its increasing service to the community. Will not our members make present gifts and by will leave large contributions for this splendid work? What a joy to feel that after we are gone the good work is continuing! What a joy at the last day, to hear the Master say: 'I was sick and ye ministered unto me!'"

Galilee Mission The Galilee Mission has just completed its 44th anniversary and is doing magnificent service. The Church owes a very great debt to Mr. George W. Wilkins for the care and sacrifice he has made for the Mission. During the year there is reported:

Chapel Attendance	36,305
Sunday School Membership	450
Sunday School Attendance	17,060
Confessed Conversions	2,424
Meals	100,630
Lodgings	51,835
Pieces of clothing distributed	1,250
Employment secured for	425

I am sure that is a good work, and the Church may well be proud of it.

The City Mission The City Mission is another splendid work which ministers to the institutions in the Diocese and serves a large population of needy people under the deeply religious care of Dr. Wm. H. Jefferys. It has become an institution for the spiritual as well as material up-building of many who have missed out in the struggle in life. We hope the work will continue for many years to come and that every year will mark increasing labor for Christ and His Church.

A Word of Hope As one looks out upon the world today, it is anything but a bright picture. And if it were not that we have a past history, we might be utterly cast down, but

*History's pages but record
 One great struggle in the darkness,
 'Twix false systems and the word,
 Truth forever on the scaffold,
 Wrong forever on the throne.
 Yet that scaffold rules the future,
 And, within the dark unknown,
 Standeth God within the shadow,

Hitler is not the first, nor will he be the last, that will rise up to defy God and man. We have had Alexander the Great, Napoleon and many others who sought to be world conquerors; and for a season seemed to succeed; but in the words of our own poet

*The wrong shall fail,
 The right prevail,
 With peace on earth,
 Good will to men*

The children of God may have suffering to endure; but while suffering is painful it may yet be purifying. They have always the comfort of knowing that God is still upon the throne, and all things will end according to His will. So we possess our souls in peace, but not in inactivity. What the world needs to heal its ills is not more wealth, more intelligence, more democratic government, but more of the grace of God. This is what God has given to us to impart to the world. May we be faithful, active and loving in the fulfilment of our task.

*A noble army: men and boys,
 The matron and the maid:
 Around the Saviour's throne rejoice,
 In robes of light arrayed.*

*They climbed the steep ascent of heaven
 Through peril, toil, and pain:
 O God, to us may grace be given
 To follow in their train.*

MEMORIAL NOTICES

Of Bishops of the Church:

FREDERICK ROGERS GRAVES, Retired Bishop of Shanghai, died at Shanghai, May 18, 1940, in the eighty-second year of his age. He was born at Auburn, New York, on October 24, 1858, graduating from Hobart College in 1878 and from the General Theological Seminary in 1881. In that year he was made Deacon, sailing almost at once for China, and was ordained Priest on October 28, 1882. For twelve years he labored, with headquarters at Wuchang, until he was consecrated Fifth Missionary Bishop of China on June 14, 1893, by Bishops Littlejohn, Coleman, and Lyman, and Bishop Barry of Australia. His early work was, of course, largely devoted to education, in addition to the religious part. Among the many schools and dispensaries he established are Saint John's University, Saint Mary's Hall, Saint Paul's School, Soochow Academy, Saint Andrew's Hospital, Saint Elisabeth's and Saint Luke's Hospitals. Feeling always that an indigenous Church was the best method to present Christianity in China, he took the first steps in 1897 to form "The Holy Catholic Church in China," consisting of eleven Dioceses, which held its first Synod in 1912. For several years he acted as Secretary to the Chinese House of Bishops, serving as its Chairman from 1915 to 1926. He resigned in October, 1937, but continued to carry on such work as was possible until his death.

JOHN WILLIAM NICHOLS, Retired Suffragan Bishop of Shanghai, died at Palo Alto, California, on September 9, 1940, in the sixty-third year of his age. He was born at Hartford, Connecticut, on February 28, 1878, the son of the Reverend William F. Nichols, later Bishop of California. He graduated from Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut, and from the Divinity School of the Pacific. He was made Deacon in 1901 and ordained Priest in 1902 by his father. For a short time he was Assistant Minister at Grace Church, San Francisco, but feeling the call to Missionary Work, he soon left for China, where he served at Saint Peter's Church, Shanghai, and as Canon of the Pro-Cathedral. On All Saints Day, 1934, he was consecrated to the Episcopate in Saint Mary's Chapel, by Bishop Norris, Presiding Bishop of the Chinese Church, assisted by Bishop Graves and Bishop Gilman. He was in charge of the School for Catechists at Wusih from 1911 to 1917, Dean of the School of Theology at Saint John's University from 1917 to 1934, and a member of the Council of Advice. In 1938 he was forced to resign on account of ill health and returned to this country.

LEWIS WILLIAMS BURTON, Retired Bishop of Lexington, died at his home at Lexington, Kentucky, on October 16, 1940, in the eighty-ninth year of his age, having been confined to his bed for the last two years. He was born in Cleveland, Ohio, on November 9, 1852, graduating from Kenyon College in 1873 and from the Divinity School in Philadelphia in 1877. He was made Deacon in 1877 and ordained Priest in 1878 by Bishop Bedell. For three years he served as Curate under his father at All Saints' Church, Cleveland, Ohio, becoming Rector of Saint Mark's Church in the same city in 1881. Three years later he accepted a call to Saint John's Church, Richmond, Virginia, where he remained until 1893, when he went to Kentucky as Rector of Saint Andrew's Church, Louisville. On January 30, 1896, he was consecrated Bishop of Lexington by Bishops Dudley, Peterkin, and Leonard, continuing in active duty until 1928, when advancing years compelled his retirement. One-time President of Sewanee University, he served as Deputy to General Convention from the Diocese of Virginia in 1892 and from the Diocese of Kentucky in 1895. From 1926 to 1929 he was President of the Fourth Province.

FREDERICK BINGHAM HOWDEN, Fourth Bishop of the Missionary District of New Mexico and Southwest Texas, died in his sleep at his home in Albuquerque, New Mexico, On November 12, 1940, in the seventy-second year of his age. He was born in West Brighton, Staten Island, New York, on December 10, 1869, graduating from Trinity College, University of Toronto, in 1891, and from the General Theological Seminary in 1894, being made Deacon and ordained to the Priesthood that same year by Bishop Henry C. Potter. In 1894 he was Curate at Saint John's Church, Detroit, Michigan, and at Calvary Church, New York City, from 1895 to 1897, when he became Rector of Emmanuel Church, Cumberland, Maryland, serving also as Archdeacon of the Convocation of Cumberland from 1900 to 1902. In 1902 he accepted a call to Georgetown Parish, Washington, where he remained until 1914, acting also as Rector of the National Cathedral School for Girls, and as an Examining Chaplain from 1903 to 1914. On January 14, 1914, he was consecrated Bishop by Bishops Tuttle, Talbot, and Vincent. Traveling many thousand miles annually, he established many Missions and built up decadent Parishes. Of a charming personality and devout life, he was much loved by all his people.

THEODORE PAYNE THURSTON, Retired Bishop of the District of Oklahoma, died at his home in San Diego, California, on January 29, 1941, aged seventy-three years. He was born on June 30, 1867, at Delevan, Illinois, graduating from Shattuck School, Trinity College, in 1891, and from Episcopal Theological School in 1894. He was made Deacon that same year by Bishop Lawrence and ordained to the Priesthood the year following by Bishop Gilbert. He accepted a call at once to Saint Paul's Church, Owatonna, Minnesota, where he remained until 1897, when he became Rector of Saint Paul's Church, Winona; leaving there in 1903 to accept a call to Saint Paul's Church, Minneapolis. On January 25, 1911, he was consecrated Bishop by Bishops Littlejohn, Millspaugh, and Brooke, continuing to serve when the District of East Oklahoma was reunited. Owing to ill health he was forced to resign on June 1, 1937.

BENJAMIN BREWSTER, Retired Bishop of Maine, died at the Hospital in Portland on February 2, 1941, aged eighty years, from a heart attack occurring four days previously. He was born in New Haven, Connecticut, on November 25, 1860, graduating from Yale College in 1882. After teaching for six months, he decided to study for Holy Orders and entered the General Theological Seminary, being made Deacon in 1886 and ordained Priest the year following by Bishop H. C. Potter. From 1896 to 1891 he was Curate at Calvary Church, New York City, with special duty at Calvary Chapel. In the latter year he accepted a call as Rector of Holy Communion Church, South Orange, New Jersey, leaving there in 1895 to become Rector of Grace Church, Colorado Springs.

During his Rectorship he was very active in many Diocesan matters and served as Deputy to General Convention in 1898. Eleven years later he accepted a call as Dean of Saint Mark's Cathedral at Salt Lake City. He was consecrated Missionary Bishop of West Colorado on June 17, 1909, by Bishops Tuttle, Nichols, and Brewster, and was elected Bishop of Maine in 1916, retiring on December 31, 1940, on account of age. His Episcopate was most successful in every way. A profound reader and scholar, rather liberal in his tendencies, he was the recipient of many degrees, and a member of the Lambeth Conference at several sessions.

THEOPHILUS MOMULU GARDINER, Suffragan Bishop of Liberia, died on April 3, 1941, at Cape Palmas, Liberia, in the seventy-second year of his age. APPENDIX D

Report of the Standing Committee to the Convention

The Standing Committee met for organization on June 4, 1940, and received the Report of the Secretary of the Convention that the Convention had elected as members of the Standing Committee:

The Rev. Edward M. Jefferys	Mr. Samuel F. Houston
The Rev. Franklin Joiner	Mr. William P. Barba
The Rev. Nathanael B. Groton	Mr. Parker S. Williams
The Rev. Stanley R. West	Mr. Spencer Ervin
The Rev. Granville Taylor	Mr. William H. DuBarry

The Rev. Edward M. Jefferys was elected President of the Standing Committee, and Mr. William H. DuBarry was elected Secretary of the Standing Committee.

The President then appointed the following Committees:

Budget Committee: Mr. William P. Barba and Mr. Spencer Ervin.

Committee on Charters: Mr. Parker S. Williams and the Rev. Franklin Joiner.

Committee concerning the qualifications of those to be elected Bishops: Mr. Samuel F. Houston and the Rev. Nathanael B. Groton.

Committee concerning the qualifications of Postulants and Candidates for Holy Orders, the Diaconate and the Priesthood: The Rev. Nathanael B. Groton, the Rev. Franklin Joiner, and Mr. William H. DuBarry.

The Standing Committee accepted with deep regret the resignation of the Rev. Dr. Edward M. Jefferys as a member of the Standing Committee and adopted the following statement:

"At the October meeting of the Standing Committee of the Diocese of Pennsylvania the Reverend Edward M. Jefferys, S.T.D., Rector Emeritus of Saint Peter's Church, presented his resignation both as President and as a Member of the Standing Committee. Action on the resignation was deferred until the November meeting, when it was accepted with profound regret.

"Dr. Jefferys was elected to membership in the Standing Committee in 1906 to fill the place of the late Very Reverend William M. Groton, D.D., Dean of the Philadelphia Divinity School, and he was made President of the Committee after the death of the Reverend Dr. James DeWolfe Perry in 1927. For 34 years as a member and for 13 years as its President, Dr. Jefferys has served the Diocese in the Standing Committee.

"Those who have served with Dr. Jefferys in the Standing Committee want not only to reiterate their profound regret at his resignation as a fellow-member and as President, but they want to place on record their affectionate regard for him as a friend and leader, and their high appreciation of his fine and generous service.

"During the years of Dr. Jefferys' membership in the Standing Committee many difficult problems have come before it for deliberation. During the years of his Presidency there have been serious questions for him to lead in discussion and in decision. In all of these circumstances Dr. Jefferys has acquitted himself and the Committee with unquestioned loyalty to the Church and the Diocese and the Bishop, and at the same time with perfect justice to all who were involved.

"This statement, adopted at the November meeting of the Standing Committee, is sent to Dr. Jefferys, spread upon the Committee's Minutes, and published in the Diocesan News as a tribute to a faithful servant and a loyal friend, with the earnest prayer that God's continued blessing may follow him all the days of his life."

The Standing Committee elected the Reverend Dr. Franklin Joiner as its President to succeed Dr. Jefferys, and elected the Rev. Chauncey Edgar Snowden, of Saint Paul's Church, Overbrook, as a member of the Standing Committee to fill the vacancy caused by Dr. Jefferys' resignation. Because of the election of the Rev. Dr. Joiner as President of the Standing Committee, his place on the Committee on Charters of the Standing Committee was filled by the appointment of the Rev. Dr. Granville Taylor, and on the Committee on Candidates by the appointment of the Rev. Mr. Stanley R. West.

A sub-committee of the Standing Committee, consisting of three members, conferred with a sub-committee of the Board of Examining Chaplains, also consisting of three members, in regard to the admission of Postulants. The joint committee agreed that examinations of Postulants should be held semi-annually.

The Standing Committee consented to the consecration of:

The Very Reverend Walter H. Gray as Bishop Suffragan of the Diocese of Connecticut, June 4, 1940.

The Reverend Wallace Edmonds Conkling as Bishop of the Diocese of Chicago, January 7, 1941.

The Reverend Oliver Leland Loring as Bishop of the Diocese of Maine, April 1, 1941.

The Standing Committee approved the nomination by the Bishop as Canons of the Cathedral, class of 1945, of the Rev. E. C. Earp, D.D., the Rev. J. M. Niblo, D.D., Mr. L. B. Runk, and Mr. W. E. Scull.

Report of the Treasurer of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, 1940

The report of the Treasurer of the Diocese of Pennsylvania for the year 1940, audited by Charles S. Rockey and Company, certified public accountants, is submitted herewith.

The Diocese paid its Expectation of $118,810.71 to the National Council, and paid all bills. This accomplishment was made possible because of the cooperation of the Parishes and Missions.

Only 33 Parishes and Missions failed to pay their Expectations in full. Many of them cooperated by sending in one-twelfth of their missionary Expectation each month. We are glad to note this increased cooperation.

The books of the Treasurer show a cash balance of $1,958.14 in the Missionary Fund for the year 1940.

The Treasurer is glad to report that the overdrafts in the bank were kept down during the year, in fact none were necessary after the third week in January.

Under date of February 15, 1940, the Treasurer received an announcement by Drexel and Company, with whom the Diocese had maintained a deposit account for many years, that as of April 1, 1940, they proposed to discontinue their Deposit Banking Business. As a result, arrangements were made for banking facilities at the Philadelphia National Bank.

Your Treasurer and Assistant Treasurer again wish to record their appreciation of the many services and courtesies received from Drexel and Company cover a period of many years.

The Diocese desires to express its grateful appreciation to the Parishes and Missions and to the Woman's Auxiliary, as well as other organizations of the Diocese, for their cooperation, and to the financial staff of the Treasurer's Office for its efficient and faithful service throughout the year.

A. V. MORTON,
Treasurer.

FREDERICK R. DRAYTON,
Assistant Treasurer.

APPENDIX F

Report of the Executive Council for 1940

In the Report for 1939 mention is made of the Mortgage Redemption Fund established in May, 1939, as to be reported on in 1940. The plan contemplated subscriptions in sums not less than $200, to be applied to paying off or reducing mortgages against mission property. In exchange for his subscription, the donor was to receive a thirty-five year endowment policy on his life in an amount equal to one and one half times the amount of his subscription, designating any beneficiary he chose, and also the promise of the Diocese to pay the premiums until the maturity of the policy or the death of donor. Taken over the insurance period of thirty-five years, the interest cost to the Diocese would be between two and one-half and three per cent as compared with a cost of from four and one-half to six per cent on the mortgages. The arrangement was thus essentially a refunding operation at a lower rate.

By vote of the Council, acting under authority of Convention, the plan was put into operation, and subscriptions were solicited under it. About one third of the 209 parishes and missions furnished one or more subscribers. The total number of subscribers was approximately 250 and the total sum subscribed $58,555. Commissions of $10,000 and secretarial and other expenses of $2,686.74 brought the net to the Diocese down to $45,868.26. (Figures for expenses are from the Department of Finance minutes of October, 1940; those for receipts, from the Report of the Department of Finance, infra). Further information is given in the Report of the Department of Finance.

Diocesan expenditures were kept within receipts again in 1940, and it is to be hoped that the same will be true in 1941. It is desirable however to mention here some well-known facts which have not yet gathered sufficient attention or action. These are

1. Heavy taxation of large incomes is reducing large gifts.
2. The city parishes are ceasing to be cornerstones of Diocesan financial support.
3. War-time demands are multifarious and large.

It has often been pointed out that a regular and thorough Every Member Visitation or Canvass, is an important protection to a parish against certain types of change. The Diocese is vitally interested in the wider and more effective use of the Canvass. A conference for Canvass leaders in May, 1940, organized by the Executive Secretary was most helpful in spreading interest and in facilitating instruction.

On April 1, 1940, Drexel and Company ceased to do deposit banking and the Diocese regretfully closed its account there, ending a relationship of many years. A Resolution of appreciation was voted by the Council. The Philadelphia National Bank is our new banker.

Attention is called to some important Resolutions adopted in December, 1940, by the Executive Council at the instance of the Department of Property, imposing responsibility upon vicars of missions for obtaining and filing with the Diocese annually receipts showing payment of taxes on mission properties. The Resolutions are printed in the appended Report of the Department. This Department has also caused to be compiled for each piece of Diocesan real estate a record which includes a description by metes and bounds, and mortgages, taxes, and insurance.

On September 15, 1940, St. Giles ceased to be a chapel of Holy Apostles and became again a Diocesan mission. The usefulness of a record for reference in the future, equally with considerations of current interest, justify a recital of the history of St. Giles, which will be found in an Appendix next following this Introduction.

At the instance of the Council, the Rev. F. C. Hartshorne, in consultation with the Chancellor of the Diocese prepared a standard Form of Deed for mission properties which was first made use of in 1940 in connection with St. Faith's Mission, Brookline. Lack of such a Form in the past had resulted in confusing differences in the terms of trust upon which the Church Foundation was taking title to properties for the Diocese and sometimes had created legal difficulties. Nor had the interests of the Diocese been adequately protected as regarded the future use of the property. The Standard Form gives reasonable scope to local initiative and self-government, yet remedies these deficiencies.

The Department of Christian Social Service and Institutions has interested itself in the problem of salacious publications, in chapels for penal institutions, in parole legislation, and in many other current matters. This Department, operating on a negligible budget, makes full use of the experience of its chairman. It seems well to call attention here to a Diocesan question related especially to the Department of Social Service. What is to be the future relationship to the Diocese of the various Church institutions within its borders? The old JOURNALS abound with evidence—if any were needed—that these institutions have been founded by churchmen and churchwomen at the instance or with the encouragement of our bishops, and have been endowed and supported by the bequests and gifts of Church people. Most of them have been incorporated. But the use of this secular convenience does not absolve their directors or managers from their obligations to the Church. On its part the Church—in this instance the Diocese—has a responsibility and an obligation which have been largely overlooked. The Diocese has not always shown the interest or afforded the aid and supervision which it owes. Large questions of policy and of administration await exploration and action here.

The subjoined Report for the Department of Missions was written by Archdeacon Bullitt shortly before his death, which occurred on March 27, 1941. Mr. Bullitt, who was in charge of the missions to foreign-language groups, had a thorough understanding of his work and discharged it with great fidelity.

His engaging personality and courteous manners made him universally beloved, as his directness and simplicity made him respected.

The interesting Report of the Department of Religious Education shows that the summer and winter conferences organized by the Department continue to attract a large enrollment. The Church School by Mail, owing much to the interest of the Woman's Auxiliary, is in its second year and is proving successful.

The Department of Publicity functions in a number of ways not suggested by its title. Besides publishing The Church News it acts as a Bureau of Information on the work of the Diocese and of the national church; maintains a valuable reference file of clippings; gives advice to parishes and to church organizations on promotional material; allots the rooms for meetings in Church House, and purchases supplies. The Department has begun to hold monthly meetings which will be told about in next year's report.

The Commission on Recruiting for the Ministry is continuing upon what seems destined to be a most valuable means of recruiting: a conference attended by men of high school and college ages and addressed by competent clergy on topics related to the ministry. On May 25, 1940, a conference attended by forty, was addressed by the Rev. Frank L. Vernon, D.D., the Rev. Stanley R. West, and the Rev. William R. McKean.

The Appendix as to St. Giles and the Reports of the Departments and of the Convocations, follow.

Respectfully submitted,

SPENCER ERVIN,
Vice-President.

DEPARTMENT OF CHRISTIAN SOCIAL SERVICE AND INSTITUTIONS

International affairs have greatly complicated and added to and magnified the difficulties of social problems. The problem of the refugee is of great importance, and is being cared for by sundry organizations, both within and without the Church. The Department has sought through a special committee to cooperate with these rather than to establish additional machinery. Much important work is being done by individual priests and parishes, but there is still keen need for the supervision of the transplanted children and women. Fortunately the action of the British Government in discouraging emigration has materially reduced the size and pressure of the problem.

Another situation calling for attention is that of the spiritual welfare of the soldiers in training. Experience in the first World War is being utilized with excellent effect and with the active cooperation of the several branches of government.

Penal affairs have occupied a very considerable share of attention. The pending parole bill, which has been carefully drafted, is being supported, and cooperation with the American Law Institute which is giving particular attention to "Youth in Crime" has been effected.

Intensive attention has been given legislation regulating salacious publications. The question has been raised, and is receiving careful consideration, whether an effort to enforce existing laws persistently should not be made and this phase has been taken up with the Crime Prevention Society, of which the Rev. Thomas A. Meryweather is director.

Work among the Negro population, or perhaps it would be more accurate to say populations, for there are a number of them, at St. John's Settlement at 12th and Master Streets, under the leadership of Dean Stockman, is making good progress.

In West Philadelphia, the Parish of St. Thomas, now housed in unsuitable quarters at 57th and Pearl Streets (near Vine) has important plans which were the subject of an eloquent address before the Department by the Rev. Dr. Sydnor Thomas.

Dean Taylor, of the Convocation of West Philadelphia, expressed himself as very sympathetic to the plan. He felt the present situation is a disgrace to our Church; in addition to a church building, a community building was needed and every effort should be made toward this project. With the Department's approval, he advised that the plan be recommended to the Executive Council, that the property be secured with the Bishop's permission. Dr. Thomas, as Chairman, was directed to prepare a recommendation for presentation to the Executive Council.

This report has been presented to the Executive Council and is now before the Finance Department.

This is a Department of Institutions as well as of Social Relations. While there are many that bear the Church's name, practically none of them is under Diocesan control. This matter came up in connection with the request of the Church Mission of Help.

At the meeting of the Council in January, 1940, there was submitted to the Council an application by the Church Mission of Help of Philadelphia for recognition by the Diocese as a Diocesan institution and inclusion in the Diocesan budget. The application was referred by the Council to the Department of Christian Social Service, which held it under advisement pending the change in the executive directorship of the applicant society, although an interim report to the Council was made in April by the chairman of the Department.

Later the Department reported favorably upon the application, and the Council, at its meeting in December, 1940, recognized the Church Mission of Help as a Diocesan institution and referred to the Department of Finance its request for an annual appropriation.

Subsequently the Executive Council adopted these recommendations.

Testimony as to the faithfulness and earnestness of the membership is again given. This department has no machinery and an appropriation of only $150, but we feel that it is meeting reasonable expectations; but the time is approaching when it must have more help.

CLINTON ROGERS WOODRUFF,
Chairman.

FIELD DEPARTMENT

The Field Department secured the appointment early in the year of Parish Canvass Chairmen. A conference was held at Spring Mountain House, at Schwenksville, on May 18th and 19th. One hundred thirty-six chairmen attended. The leaders of the conference were the Executive Secretary of the Diocese, the Reverend Frederick P. Houghton, D.D., and the Reverend Charles W. Sheerin, D.D., Vice-President of the National Council, Lewis B. Franklin, D.C.L., Treasurer of the National Council, John R. Wood, D.C.L., Executive Secretary of the Department of Foreign Missions. A great deal of enthusiasm was engendered, and a central committee of six, one representing each Convocation, appointed.

In the fall a dinner meeting of all parish chairmen was held in each Convocation. Literature was supplied to all parishes and missions.

On October 31st the Department held a conference of the Diocesan Clergy, ninety-four being present. The guest of honor was Bishop Hudson, personal representative of the Archbishop of Canterbury. As a result of his presence, the Department appointed with the consent of the Bishop, a Committee, headed by the Reverend E. Felix Kloman, Mrs. Edward Ingersoll and the Reverend Frederick P. Houghton, D.D., to conduct the drive for the Aid for British Missions. It was agreed to hold this drive immediately after the first of the coming year. The other guests at the Clergy Conference were the Reverend Dr. George Wieland, the Reverend Dr. David Covell, Messrs. Lewis B. Franklin and Joseph Boyle, all of the National Council.

During the year the Department was also responsible for 170 separate engagements in the Diocese representing 30 different missionary fields, the speakers including Bishops, Clergymen, nurses, doctors, and teachers direct from the fields.

The Department was instrumental in securing $25,379 for the Diocesan Contributors' Fund.

THOMAS S. GATES,
Chairman.

March 14, 1941.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE

The Department of Finance met regularly each month except during the summer, in 1940, and gave constant thought and study to the many financial problems confronting the Diocese throughout the year.

A sub-committee of the Department of Finance is a Committee of Financial Safeguards, report of which will be found elsewhere in the JOURNAL.

The Department, with regret, accepted the resignation of Miss Mabel I. Lohr, who left the employ of the Diocese in order to be married. Miss Lohr had been with the Diocese for twenty-one years. At the request of the Department the following letter of appreciation was sent to Miss Lohr by the Executive Council:

"It gives me great pleasure to convey to you the thanks and appreciation of the Executive Council for your great services to the Diocese of Pennsylvania during the twenty-one years in which you have been serving in its Financial Department, and to tell you that this was unanimously carried by the members of the Council.

JAMES F. BULLITT,
Secretary."

The Department engaged Miss Alberteen M. Jackson as Miss Lohr's successor, effective November 1st. During the year the work of the Mortgage Redemption Fund Committee expired. The total amount pledged is $58,555.77, which is divided into the following beneficiaries:

Mortgages of the Diocese.....	$39,793.77
Endowment Fund for the Maintenance of the Episcopate.....	6,750.00
Parishes named beneficiary.....	12,012.00
	$58,555.77

Included in this figure are outright gifts with no insurance involved of $5,050 and we have received payments amounting to $23,036.70. Of this amount $4,000 had already been paid off on mortgage reductions. A larger reduction would have been made had it not been for the unexpected absence from the city of the Chairman-in-Charge. The Finance Department has been rather disappointed in not being able to secure enough pledges to cancel all of the mortgages of the Diocese and the interest thereon which is being constantly carried as an expense item on the Budget of the Diocese.

The Department notes with pleasure that all bills of the Diocese and its Expectation to the National Church for 1940 have been paid in full, and that a balance of $1,958.14 remained in the Missionary Account for the year.

JOSHUA ASH-PEARSON,

Chairman.

March 14, 1941.

DEPARTMENT OF MISSIONS

The facts with reference to the Department of Missions will be found chiefly in the reports of the Deans of the Convocations which follow.

The Convocation of Chester is organizing a new Convocational Mission at Manoa. St. Anne's, Willow Grove, has been provided with a new rectory and the Missions in the other Convocations have made good progress. This is strikingly shown in the acceptance by the great majority of these Missions of a ten percent reduction for 1941 in the appropriations of the Diocese toward the salaries of the vicars. The Rev. Mr. Della Cioppa has been transferred as a supply worker for Italian work from L'Emmanuel to the Pro-Cathedral of St. Mary's. The Chapel of St. Giles has been returned to the Diocese by the Church of the Holy Apostles and is now a Mission of the Convocation of Chester.

JAMES F. BULLITT,
Secretary.

March 11, 1941.

CONVOCATION OF CHESTER

Our plans under discussion during the past year for the establishment of missions in the growing areas of the Convocation have been carried out in a very thorough survey of hundreds of new homes, recently erected at Westgate Hills, Manoa. Following the survey, the Odd Fellows' Hall at Manoa was secured for the first services, which were held on November 3, with Sunday School meeting at 9.30 A. M., and Morning Prayer at 11 o'clock. Mr. Dougald Maclean has been placed in charge of this new work, under a plan by which the Philadelphia Divinity School is cooperating with the Convocation.

The Mission has already shown signs of steady increase, and a committee of the Convocation has selected a possible site for the establishment of a permanent work. The Bishop's January Call is to be made available for the purchase of lots.

Plans were also made for a survey of the new developments farther west of West Chester Pike, between Manoa and Broomall, and in Broomall itself.

Plans are being prepared by Mr. Thompson of Mr. Watson's office for Ascension Mission, West Chester. Fifteen hundred dollars from the October Call, together with the sum of five hundred dollars being raised by the congregation, will be used for these improvements.

Plans are also under way for some much-needed improvements at the Church of The Advent, Kennett Square.

At St. Faith's, Brookline, panelling and reredos were installed and the interior of the Church painted. One thousand dollars was paid off on the mortgage on the Rectory.

On October 20 the 25th Anniversary of the establishment of St. Luke's Mission, Eddystone, was celebrated. The Dean consecrated two candelabra presented by the congregation in memory of the late Samuel M. Vauclain, who gave the Parish House and the Rectory to the Mission. The sermon was preached by the first Vicar of the Mission, the Rev. William H. Anthony, Ph.D.

St. Martin's Church, Marcus Hook, celebrated its 238th Anniversary during the week of October 27 to November 3. The whole week was devoted to special services with guest preachers in commemoration of this event.

There have been several changes in the clergy of the Convocation during the year: On the 1st of April, the Rev. Albert E. Wilcox became rector of St. Stephen's Church, Norwood. We were delighted to welcome to the fellowship of our Convocation the Rev. J. Gillespie Armstrong, III, rector of St. Mary's Church, Ardmore, and the Rev. Aaron Manderbach, who has taken over the work at Trinity Church, Collingdale. The Rev. Emmett E. Miller, Jr., who succeeded the Rev. Mr. Davis at St. Mary's, Chester, and Ascension, West Chester, is continuing the study of opportunities for religious work in the many colored institutions within the borders of the Convocation.

On the 15th of September, St. Giles, Stonehurst, returned to the status of a Mission of the Convocation.

Holy Sacrament, Highland Park, was the very grateful recipient of $2,000 from the Woman's Auxiliary. Our missionary growth during all the years of our history would not have been possible without the prayers and good works of our devoted women. We know that we can count upon them for help in our plans for the future.

It is good to know that as Dean I have had such loyal support and efficient cooperation from the members of the Convocation, both clerical and lay.

STANLEY V. WILCOX,
Dean.

CONVOCATION OF GERMANTOWN

A year in the life of a Diocese or Convocation is so short a space of time that it is difficult to outline in detail any marked differences in growth that appear within so short a period. Diocese and Convocations do not grow with mushroom growth, but with steady day-by-day spade work and gradual results that endure. One must look at them from the standpoint of decades to appreciate the month-by-month and year-by-year advancements that are being made. Nevertheless, in spite of this need for long-term periods in which results are to be checked, the Convocation of Germantown has grown materially during the year 1940, and above all, spiritually. The parishes and missions that constitute the Convocation continued to give generously their full "Expectations" for the Church's Program; Confirmation Classes have been large and well-instructed, and our Clergy report that regular Church attendance is steadily increasing. For this we thank God and take heart.

For several years the Convocation has been deeply interested in securing money to build rectories for its Vicars adjacent to their churches. We made a start on this plan with St. Gabriel's, Feltonville, and have come within a few thousand dollars of accomplishing our object. But that last few thousand dollars has proven to be an almost insuperable handicap. We have a rule in the Diocese that no mortgages may be placed on mission property, so we were unable to move along that way. The Dean is unwilling to ask individuals to sign their names to personal notes for money, because he himself has steadfastly refused to do so for any cause, so we were unable to proceed along that way. Other ways of financing have failed us. And for the time being, we are doing nothing, while our money remains in a savings account, and building costs are mounting. If the Diocese had a revolving fund that might be used for such purposes, every Dean's task would be lightened. Something ought to be done in the matter. Perhaps it will in the future. Some in the Convocation have suggested a Diocesan Drive for just such a "Revolving Fund."

The situation is a bit different at the Church of the Messiah, Oxford Circle. Here we are nearer our goal, financially, and we hope to build the Rectory within a reasonable time. If we do, the Diocese will be relieved of the $600 a year we now have to raise to provide a home for the Rector and his family.

At Trinity, Buckingham, under the Country Centre Mission, for several years the work has been carried on the shoulders of a devoted and faithful layman, under the supervision of the Rev. Mr. Parker. That man was Mr. Gideon Montgomery. Last summer he became physically incapable of continuing the work and had to resign. We owe him a heavy debt of gratitude for his tireless and painstaking service in this old country parish. Mr. Montgomery has been succeeded by the Rev. Charles Ehly, Deacon, and we have every hope that it will grow apace. As a matter of fact, it already shows marks of real going ahead.

During the year, the Rev. Mr. MacDonald resigned his position under Mr. Parker and accepted the rectorship of a parish in the Diocese of New Jersey. For the present, the Rev. Mr. Parker is caring for Trinity, Solebury, with the aid of some outside assistance.

The Church of the Ascension, Rhawnhurst, is moving ahead slowly but solidly under the care of its devoted Pastor. St. Stephen's, Wissahickon, is showing remarkable life under the care of the Rev. Mr. Elliott, Deacon. The Church of the Incarnation, Morrisville, had a fire during the year, but the cost of repairs was covered by insurance. So did the Rectory at Langhorne, which on a Sunday morning, during service time, burst out in a blaze that routed the Rector and his family for some weeks. Fortunately the Church Fire Insurance Corporation was quick and generous in making good its obligation there and the Rectory at Langhorne is now in good livable condition again.

St. Philip's, New Hope, continues to grow under the inspiration of a devoted layman, Mr. Robert C. Belleville, 3rd, who carries on the work under the Dean. St. Gabriel's, Feltonville, is slowly but surely moving ahead. The Dean feels that if the Diocese were to get behind one or two of our more promising missions financially for several years, at the end of that time they would be able to apply to the Convention for parochial status. St. John's, West Oak Lane, continues to forge ahead; the first year in their own Church has heartened them much.

The Woman's Aid to the Convocation of Germantown has continued to supply much interest and money to our work. By their aid during the year we were enabled to reduce some of our mortgages considerably.

We look forward to the year 1941 as a period in which together we shall do much valuable work for the Kingdom.

Faithfully,

CHARLES E. EDER,

Dean.

CONVOCATION OF NORRISTOWN

Steady effort marks the work in all the Missions of this Convocation. The Vicars have given themselves wholeheartedly in their respective cares and with good foundations established have made enduring progress. The only change in Vicars took place at Holy Trinity, Lansdale, where the Vicar was called to be Rector of All Saints, Crescentville, Philadelphia. It was with real regret that the members of Holy Trinity, Lansdale, bade farewell to their untiring leader.

S. Anne's, Willow Grove, rejoices in the possession of a fine, commodious Rectory, made possible by the help of St. Thomas, Whitemarsh. The Vicar and his family were able to move into the new house before Christmas, just a year after all indebtedness of the Mission had been cleared and plans for a Rectory begun.

St. Peter's Mission, Glenside, is under the efficient care of the Rector of St. Peter's Church, Weldon, and all official acts are reported from that Parish.

JAMES M. NIBLO,
Dean.

CONVOCATION OF NORTH PHILADELPHIA

The year of record has marked some real progress in the work of the several Missions. St. Augustine's is definitely approaching self-support. St. Bartholomew's has been delayed by necessary repairs and improvements to its property which have been financed by the Mission.

Unemployment conditions have ameliorated to some extent and all of the Missions in Kensington look forward eagerly to the re-opening of Cramp's Shipyard.

The Italian congregation has completed its Organ Fund and has installed an oil heater. The two Polish congregations have made physical improvements to their respective properties and seem to be more than holding their own. All of our Missions and their Vicars deserve our encouragement and appreciation. And once again I want to make acknowledgment of the faithful Lay assistance provided at St. George's, Venango; St. Paul's, North Penn; and St. Christopher's; and to other Lay Readers of the Convocation who have volunteered assistance on several occasions. We are glad to have had the assistance of the Rev. Arthur J. Langlois at St. Paul's, North Penn, and St. Christopher's; and the volunteer assistance of the Rev. Leonard Hursh once a month at St. George's, Venango.

After several years of most faithful and effective service as President of the Woman's Aid, Mrs. T. Leslie Gossling has found it necessary to retire because of her health. She and the other officers have carried on the work in a most helpful manner and many of the Missions have benefited by the generous appropriations made to them. The new President, Mrs. Joseph Harrison, will have the respect and wholehearted assistance of all the delegates from the several Parishes and Missions who make up the constituency of the Woman's Aid.

After several years of most thoroughgoing service, Mr. Alexander Morrison has retired as auditor in favor of Mr. J. T. Ninesteel, who will function with Mr. Chris Wylde.

The Executive Board has a special committee at work under the chairmanship of the Rev. E. Felix Kroman, of Christ Church, which is making an intensive survey and appraisal of the Missions of the Convocation. Its report is expected to be made early in 1941. Acknowledgment is made to all who have given of their time and service to the work of the Convocation, especially our Secretary, the Rev. Herbert W. Jones, and our Treasurer, Mr. Henry C. Lawser.

May the Lord prosper His work and His workers.

PERCY R. STOCKMAN,
Dean.

HENRY C. LAWSER,

CONVOCATION OF SOUTH PHILADELPHIA

During the past year the work of the Church in South Philadelphia was maintained by the loyalty and devotion of clergy and people alike.

The year 1940 was marked by the resignation of the Rev. John E. Hill as Dean. For more than ten years, Mr. Hill gave both time and effort generously to the Missionary effort. Feeling that it owes much to his wise guidance the Convocation desires to place on record a sense of deep appreciation of the fine work which he was able to carry on during his tenure of office.

His place was taken by the election of the Rev. Frank W. Bonyne, Vicar of the Memorial Chapel of the Holy Communion, who asks for the prayerful support of all who wish to maintain unimpaired the opportunity to witness for God and His Church in the southern section of the city.

From information supplied by the Missionaries, the future outlook appears to be good. Throughout 1940, steady effort was made by all the workers with good results. It is confidently expected that the Presiding Bishop's Crusade will arouse additional enthusiasm—stimulating increased effort amongst those already in the fold to go out into the highways and hedges of life, and induce outsiders to come into the sphere of our Church's life and work.

The Rev. Gustav C. Meckling, of the Chapel of the Transfiguration, reports that the Mission is displaying a wonderful spirit of cooperation, evincing its interest in all Diocesan and Convocational affairs. He believes that the future looks most promising for the Mission's growth.

Mr. Meckling also carries on an acceptable work among the Hard of Hearing at Holy Trinity Parish House by the kind permission of the Rector and Vestry of that congregation. The membership is growing steadily, and it is hoped to add 10 new Hearing Aid Appliances for his people's use in the future. He acknowledges with appreciation the splendid work done by the women of the Hard of Hearing group.

The Rev. Francis B. Roseboro, of St. Elisabeth's Church, 16th and Mifflin Streets, who ministers to both an English and Italian congregation, says: "The most noticeable advance at St. Elisabeth's during the year has been the increasing interest in the development of the spiritual life of the congregation, and an increased sense of responsibility for the evangelism of the community. As a result, there has been a marked increase in the attendance at the Services during the Autumn."

Work among the foreign born is being steadily carried on by the Rev. Dr. Emhardt, assisted by the Rev. Thomas E. Della Cioppa, at the Pro-Cathedral of St. Mary, Broad and South Streets, where there is much activity and fine cooperation. Due to his wide experience and genuine interest in the spiritual life of the foreign born, Dr. Emhardt is singularly well qualified to superintend such work. His parish program is a full one, and were the requisite financial resources available, it would be possible to develop such activity still more than now, owing to the large foreign population in the south section.

Among the Negro people, fine work is being done by the Rev. John R. Logan, Jr., who ministers to an increasingly large number at the Mission of the Holy Spirit, 11th Street and Moyamensing Avenue. Families are being added to the Mission and the Sunday School roll is growing steadily.

This report would not be complete without due recognition of the splendid work of the Woman's Aid under the able leadership of its President. The women's meetings are always well attended, and keen interest is ever exhibited in the full program which they cover. We thank them for invaluable assistance in many directions.

FRANK W. BONYNE,
Dean.

REPORT OF THE WOMAN'S AID TO THE CONVOCATION OF SOUTH PHILADELPHIA

The special annual effort of the Woman's Aid was focussed on the Negro work of the Convocation, to further which a Garden Party was held at Gloria Dei Church on Thursday, June 13, 1940, by kind permission of the Rector, the Rev. John Craig Roak. The weather proved fine. The attendance was also good, including as it did twelve of the Clergy working in South Philadelphia.

Too much praise cannot be accorded to all the Delegates for their enthusiasm and zeal. All worked hard to make this effort successful—so much so, in fact, that the sum realized amounted to $400, which, after deduction of expenses, was divided equally among 3 of the Negro congregations:

1. To Holy Spirit Mission for needed equipment for the Church School.
2. To Phillips Brooks Chapel for its Daily Vacation Bible School, which does such a fine work in building up Christian character among its young people. 275 teachers and scholars were enrolled.
3. To Crucifixion Church for its splendid work in sending undernourished children to the country in the summer and caring also for their spiritual needs.

The interest of the Delegates in Community work was evidenced as follows:

1. Educational Day for the Blind, $83.35, and generous donations of food from the following Churches: Holy Apostles, Holy Comforter, Holy Communion, Holy Trinity, Holy Trinity Memorial, Prince of Peace. St. Elisabeth, St. Paul Memorial, St. Peter, and Transfiguration Mission.

2. Needlework Guild, $49.45, and 830 garments from All Saints, Crucifixion, Holy Apostles, Holy Comforter, Holy Communion, Holy Trinity Memorial, Phillips Brooks, Prince of Peace, Saint Saveur, St. Mary's Chapel, St. Mary Pro-Cathedral, St. Paul Memorial, and St. Peter.

Practical help was given to Diocesan projects:

1. St. John's Settlement House, $10.
2. House of Rest, $25.
3. The Cathedral of the Diocese, $10.
4. Daily Vacation Bible School of the Diocese, $10.
5. Elizabeth Price Martin League, $37.50, and 186 packages for Christmas gifts from All Saints, Holy Apostles, Holy Comforter, Holy Communion, Holy Trinity Memorial, Prince of Peace, St. Elisabeth, St. Mark, St. Paul Memorial, St. Peter, Saint Saveur, and Transfiguration Mission.
6. Episcopal Hospital, $25.

Christmas treats were provided for the children in Holy Spirit Mission, Transfiguration Mission and St. Mary, Pro-Cathedral, Crucifixion, and St. Elisabeth's Churches.

The world-wide aspect of the Church was studied, under the leadership of Mrs. Frank W. Bonyng, at a Missionary Day. Some problems suggested by the Madras Conference Findings were discussed and much interest was evinced.

May I close this Report with deep appreciation of the loyalty and cooperation of all my Delegates, without whose fine support we could never have accomplished so much in the year 1940. Our warmest thanks are due to the Rev. John Craig Roak for making the grounds of Gloria Dei Church available for the annual Garden Party during the past three years.

ANNABEL BONYNGE,
President.

CONVOCATION OF WEST PHILADELPHIA

The missionary work in the Convocation has made further progress during 1940. While there is nothing sensational in character, yet the work has grown steadily stronger and a splendid spirit is being manifested in the several Missions.

The meetings of the Convocation have been well attended the various Parishes sending their delegates and so showing their interest in the missionary work that is to be done.

The Convocation again met its Expectations and the Clergy are conscientiously facing their responsibilities in the matter of the support of the Missionary Work of the Church.

Our two Missionaries, the Rev. M. Mills Garcia, Vicar of St. Titus' Mission, and the Rev. Arthur C. Moore, Vicar of St. Cyprian's and St. Monica's, report growing interest and strength in their work. This growth and interest is slow, nevertheless, it is genuine and we believe permanent. Each Mission strives to increase its contribution to the Missionary Work of the Church and each year undertakes to carry a larger proportion of the Vicar's salary. The people are cooperating completely with their Vicars and there is a wholesome relationship evident on all sides.

During the year the heating plant at St. Titus' Mission has been entirely gone over. A new boiler, with oil-burning equipment, has been installed; new radiators where needed and the rest of the system overhauled, making a splendid unit which is giving very satisfactory service.

The physical needs of St. Titus' and St. Cyprian's have now been largely met, and the attention of the Convocation will be given next to the needs of St. Monica's. There is a splendid group of interested men and women at this Mission and it is the desire of the Dean to give them every encouragement in the matter of improving their facilities that they may do a better piece of work.

Again the Woman's Aid to the Convocation, under the leadership of Mrs. U. Grant Beath, has given every possible cooperation and financial support to the work of the Missions. The Dean wishes once more to express his appreciation to these good women and all others who have assisted during the year. Without the harmonious and enthusiastic interest of this group and the Clergy of the Parishes the results attained would have been impossible.

We are very happy to hear constant reports of advancement and improvement in the work done by the Rev. Thomas Logan at St. Michael and All Angels' Chapel. There is a faithful group of people here and they are vitally interested in their work. Under the leadership of Mr. Logan they are making real progress.

GRANVILLE TAYLOR,
Dean.

REPORT OF THE WOMAN'S AID TO THE CONVOCATION OF WEST PHILADELPHIA

During the year 1940, the Woman's Aid to the Convocation of West Philadelphia held the usual three meetings. The annual June Fete was at the Church of the Epiphany, Sherwood, and was a success not only financially but also because of the opportunity it afforded for a friendly get-together. On February 29th, at St. Paul's Memorial Church, Overbrook, the Educational Secretary of the Diocese, Mrs. Slemons, assisted by Mrs. Hunsicker and Mrs. Bonyng, conducted a most interesting and profitable Mission Study Institute. Our project for the year was to assist in financing much needed repairs at St. Titus' Mission, which is now in good condition. West Philadelphia took its usual part in Episcopal Day of Educational Week for the Blind and in the May Fete at the Episcopal Hospital. All social service appeals were investigated and met and a generous response made to the request for Christmas cheer for the patients at the Philadelphia General Hospital. At the annual meeting in January the same officers were re-elected for a term of two years. With the challenge of the theme of Triennial Convention in our hearts, West Philadelphia pledges itself anew to go forward witnessing to the power of God.

Respectfully submitted,

ELIZABETH C. BEATH,
Chairman.

Treasurer.

DEPARTMENT OF PROPERTY

The Department held meetings as needed during the year. It continued its activities in trying to secure reductions on mortgages on Mission properties, and reports the sale of mortgages held in the old Campaign Fund. The final results of the sale amounted to $11,985.58, this being the net amount after all fees and taxes had been paid. However, there was an overdraft in this account at Drexel and Company, leaving a final net figure of $5,833.90. The original amount of the mortgages was $22,000.

During the year the Department has been greatly concerned because of the large amount of unpaid tax bills received, some of them going back to 1922. Accordingly the Department was instrumental in having the following resolutions passed through the Executive Council:

RESOLVED, That the Department of Property recommends to the Bishop and Executive Council, through the Department of Finance, that the Treasurer's Office be instructed to notify all Vicars and Treasurers of Missions that it is their responsibility to secure tax bills for the current year on all Mission Property, and

RESOLVED, That the tax receipts for the preceeding year must be filed by the Vicar, with the Diocesan Treasurer's Office no later than April 1, 1941, and of January 1st of each year thereafter, and

RESOLVED, That the Treasurer of the Diocese is hereby instructed that in each case where the tax receipts for the preceeding year of any Mission is not received as of January 1st, that the salary appropriation for that Mission be withheld until the tax receipts are received, and

RESOLVED, That the Treasurer's Office is hereby instructed to keep all tax receipts on Missions or Diocesan property in a fire-proof file at Church House, and

RESOLVED, That the Bishop and Executive Council request the Commission on Rectors' Salaries and Pensions to take similar action in regard to all parishes receiving aid from the Diocese.

During the year the Department undertook to complete the property records pertaining to pertinent information concerning taxes, insurance, mortgages, and description of deeds.

Minor repairs were made to the Church House during the year.

FREDERICK P. HOUGHTON,
Secretary.

March 14, 1941.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLICITY

The Department of Publicity emphasized its primary function—the dissemination of news of the Church—throughout the year 1940 with the result that approximately 30½ full newspaper pages of material appeared in the Philadelphia secular press, including 159 photographs. This does not include news of General Convention or other items not originating in some way in the office of the Department, which would swell the figure to a much more impressive total. Good representation was had in the national Church papers as well.

The Department wishes to record its appreciation for the cooperation it has received through the year from clergy and laity and from the other Departments of the Council.

The Church News

The Church News, as the official organ of the Diocese, was published monthly except in July and August, and every effort was made to maintain the high standard established long since. Advertising was kept at a good average under the direction of Mrs. Edyth Bennett Deakyne. Circulation was maintained at an average of better than 3,000 per month for the ten months of publication. The outlook for 1941 is promising.

Church Extension Call

Church Extension Fund Calls were issued in January, April, and October, with St. James, Langhorne; St. Anne's, Willow Grove; and Ascension, West Chester, as the respective beneficiaries.

Cut Service

The growing cut files of the Department were found useful by many parishes and missions throughout the Diocese for special publications from time to time. This service is extended to organizations as well as parishes.

Use of Church House Rooms

The number of meetings for which rooms were allocated in Church House for 1940 totalled 480, a decrease of 58 from 1939.

Information Bureau

This phase of the Department's work flourished. Increasing numbers of calls and letters for information about the Diocese and the national Church were received and answered.

Purchasing and Supplies

The Department continued to function as the purchasing center for printed matter used by the Diocese. Considerable help was given to organizations and parishes in planning promotional material most advantageously.

CHARLES H. LONG,
Chairman.

DEPARTMENT OF RECRUITING FOR THE MINISTRY

For the year 1940 the Diocese, through this Commission, assisted eight young men who were students at General Seminary, Philadelphia Divinity School, Nashotah, DuBose Memorial Training School, and the Episcopal Theological School, two of whom will graduate this June, and two have, at least for the present, discontinued their seminary studies. The Commission no longer is able, as it was until recent years, to assist Postulants for Holy Orders who are pursuing their college studies, but must confine its help to seminarians who are also Candidates from this Diocese. A grant of $200 a year is usually made to each student, and only to those who are unable to pay all of their own expenses.

A conference arranged by the Commission for young men of high school and college ages, to whom the Ministry as a vocation might appeal, was held at St. Mary's Church, Hamilton Village, Saturday, May 25th, with about forty in attendance. Those present who had attended similar conferences in this Diocese held under the direction of the Commission, were unanimous in feeling that this was in many respects the most profitable one of all, and we were requested to follow much the same program in future conferences. The addresses given last

May are being printed for distribution to the young men whom we assist and to those who attend the conference held each spring, as we think that they will be of much profit to them.

For 1941 only $1,500 has been allocated for use by the Commission. Such a relatively small sum for such a great work as this seriously limits the work which has been assigned to our Commission. If any considerable number of new applications for assistance are received this year, as is quite likely, we shall be unable to make grants to all of them.

WILLIAM NEWMAN PARKER,
Chairman.

DEPARTMENT OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

It is always difficult to measure life and growth but all criteria indicate 1940 as a very healthy one educationally. There were about 1,800 visitors to the office recorded during the year, exclusive of those who came for meetings and conferences. The office had working contact with 162 of the 220 parishes and missions in the Diocese. The Field Secretary and Office Secretary, with volunteer assistants, were kept extraordinarily busy in Room 30, which is open daily for ten months from 9 A. M. to 4.30 P. M. and from 9 to 12 on Saturdays.

The Department met ten times during the year with the Rev. Charles Martin as chairman and the Rev. J. Jarden Guenther as secretary. The chairman of commissions were:

Adult—The Rev. Harvey D. Butterfield;

Church School—The Rev. J. Wesley Twelves;

Teacher Training—The Rev. Frederick W. Blatz (from November on);

Youth—Miss Dorothy Scott (from November on).

Chairmen of special committees were:

Cooperating Educational Center—The Rev. Frederick E. Seymour;

Vacation Church Schools—Miss Eleanor A. Deane.

The work of the Department can best be recorded under its commissions and committees.

Adult Commission—A Winter Conference was held in the Church House and Holy Trinity Parish House on five Tuesday evenings, January 16th to February 13th. There were 30 courses offered in five schools—School of Church Life, School for Youth, School for Education, School of Music, Graduate School, and School for Clergy. 359 persons registered and the degree of interest and enthusiasm shown made it evident that the Winter Conference should be continued. Before the end of the year plans were made for the second one to be held January 21st through February 18, 1941.

The second Diocesan Summer Conference was held at Ursinus College from June 23rd to the 28th, under the presidency of the Rev. Charles Martin, with a registration of 138 persons from 61 parishes. The attendance at all services, classes, and meetings was excellent and the fine spirit in evidence at the first conference continued.

Through the medium of the library, the Normal School, the Advanced Conference of the Province (attended by 46 from this Diocese), and in cooperation with the Woman's Auxiliary further work of Adult Education has been carried on.

Commission on Church Schools—The Lenten Offering raised under the supervision of the commission amounted to $41,912.09, which was an increase of several hundred dollars over the previous year and represented one third of the amount sent by the Diocese to the National Council, and was 14% of the total Lenten Offering. An outstanding feature of the offering was the great Presentation Service held in Holy Trinity Church, at which 2,000 children and teachers were present. A children's choir of over 1,000 led the procession.

The Church School by Mail, under the supervision of this Commission, has ministered to 319 children in the rural sections of the Diocese during the year. Miss Dorothy Kohl, who is secretary of the school, reports that 93 of these children have been brought into Church Schools through her efforts and that in one case a Church School has been reopened because of the children she discovered in that community. The Woman's Auxiliary, as an experiment, paid Miss Kohl's salary for one year. It is now hoped that this work will be placed on the regular budget of the Diocese.

The Advent Offering from the children of the Diocese, amounting to $1,172.58, was given to St. Christopher's Mission for the installation of a heating system in the new building, erected two years ago, largely through this same offering.

Through Mrs. Charles H. Landreth, the Christmas Box Secretary, 490 Christmas gifts were supplied to missions in the Domestic and Foreign Field, as well as $100 sent in cash.

Through Miss Helen McHenry, Diocesan Christmas Box Secretary, 2,544 gifts and $15, from 25 parishes, were distributed to 8 institutions and 14 missions in the Diocese.

Prayers for Children in Time of War were prepared under the direction of this Commission and printed in the Diocesan Church News.

Recognition of the 125th Anniversary of the birth of the Sunday School system in the United States by our Church was featured during the year and an historical paper prepared and printed.

Teacher Training Commission—The 70th Annual Church School Institute was held October 7th at the Christian Association with the Rev. Charles Martin as the principal speaker. An exhibit of Art, suitable for use in Church School rooms, was a feature, showing the wealth of talent available in the Diocese. Various mediums were represented and the exhibitors included children, young people, and adults.

Two five-session semesters of the Diocesan Normal School were held in the fall. The winter semester became part of the Winter Conference.

Youth Commission—In the latter part of the year the Commission on Youth was changed in membership from a group of adults to a group of young people with a few advisors, and in name to the Youth Commission. On the Commission are official representatives of Diocesan Youth organizations, and young people from different type parishes and missions. The Commission will be the group in the Diocese to carry out the plans of the "United Movement of the Church's Youth," which was initiated at General Convention and is being promoted by the National Youth Commission. This movement is not a new organization but rather an effort to coordinate existing organizations and to reach youth not affiliated with any group.

Vacation Church School Committee—26 Vacation Church Schools were held in the Diocese (8 of these were new schools), with a total enrolment of 1,575 pupils and 164 teachers and helpers. Sixteen schools received financial assistance from the Department. A very successful institute for the training of leaders was held in the Church House on the five Tuesday evenings in April. A few leaders went to the institute conducted by the Philadelphia Council of Christian Education, which was aided by a donation of $10 from the Department. Mrs. John Loman was again employed by the Department to visit and advise the Vacation Church Schools.

Cooperating Educational Center Committee—Epiphany Church, Germantown, continued as the Cooperating Educational Center. Two parish meetings were held during the year and a parish council was started. The parish had visits from officers of the National Department of Religious Education and the Diocesan Committee. As so ably pictured in Forth, new life seems to have been created.

Cooperation with the Philadelphia Council of Christian Education and the Pennsylvania Council—Representing the Department on various committees are Mrs. John Loman (Vacation Church Schools); Mr. Earl Glazier (Superintendents); Miss Frazier (Executive Committee); Mrs. Fred Rodgers and Mrs. George West (Children's Workers); Miss Helen Washburn (Weekday Religious Education). Miss Washburn has been very busy in Weekday Religious Education and in representing the Department on the State Committee in this field. There has been a revival of interest during the year resulting in a study of the existing schools, the laws pertaining to released time and the use of school buildings, and the leadership necessary and available.

CHARLES MARTIN,
Chairman.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO ENQUIRE INTO COLLEGE WORK

Origin and Work of the Special Committee

The Executive Council, at its meeting of June, 1940, adopted the following Resolution:

RESOLVED, That a committee of five be appointed by the Bishop to consult with members of the clergy now engaged in student work in the Diocese of Pennsylvania to determine what the amount may be for a central committee and what its functions should be, and further to consult with the present student committee, the Department of Religious Education, and Mr. Stabler of the Church Society for College Work, and the Cathedral Chapter and to report back to the Executive Council their recommendations.

Two of those originally appointed pursuant to the above Resolution were unable to serve. This Report is presented by the three remaining appointees, who for brevity will be referred to hereinafter as the Special Committee.

The Special Committee now reporting has interpreted this Resolution as intended to instruct it to enquire into the present organization and condition of college work within the Diocese, and in the light of the best available experience and opinion, present recommendations. This it has endeavored to do, and now presents its Report under the following headings:

A—Purposes, Methods, and Limitations of College Work.

C—Recommendations.

The Special Committee has sought fact and opinion from persons experienced or interested in college work. It has consulted eighteen priests and three laymen of this Diocese; also the past president and the present president of the Church Society for College Work; the Secretary of the College Work and Youth Division of the National Council; the Chairman of the Commission on College Work of the Third Province, and another member of this Commission resident in Philadelphia. And it has made use of a number of pamphlets furnished by the National Council and by the Church Society aforesaid. We pass now to the first topic of our Report, which is:

A—PURPOSES, METHODS, AND LIMITATIONS OF COLLEGE WORK

It will be noticed that we speak of college work and not of student work. The reason is that students are not the only people in a college. Instructors and administrators are there also. Dr. Kelley, of the National Council's College Work and Youth Division, says that until the Church gains adherents in a college faculty it is fighting a purely defensive battle. The pastor whom we place in a college can seldom have the same opportunities of influence as the professor whom the student sees more frequently and whom he admires intellectually. Dr. Theodore O. Wedel, Dr. Kelley's predecessor in office, says: ("The Church's Work with Students," National Council, 1938, pp. 7-8).

"Even a casual remark made by a professor whom a student admires may mold his philosophy of life. . . .

"Clearly it is this incalculable power of the faculty which the Church needs to woo if she wishes to make an impress upon the deeper currents of campus life."

College work, then, is a type of missionary enterprise to faculty and students. The latter fall into three classes: churchmen of leadership calibre; church casuals; and non-churchmen. With the first group the object is thorough teaching, looking to later leadership in the parish. With the second it is rescue and stimulation. With the third it is information. Not a few non-churchmen come into the Church later on because of what they have learned in college.

And what should the Church, through the Anglican Communion, teach in college? Nothing less than the everlasting, uncompromising Faith, and the sacramental means of realizing it. "Instruction in the Christian Faith and the Christian Church is the most neglected activity in the Church's work with students. . . . The modern student is left wholly ignorant of theology, not to mention the other intellectual disciplines connected with institutional Christianity. . . . Theology . . . is essential in an educated man's acceptance of the Church." (Wedel, op. cit., p. 23.)

Dr. Wedel says further (id., p. 24): "The realization that Christian doctrine can be intensely alive, that it deals with the deepest insights into the mystery of life, individual and social, that it explicates a revelation in history, not a scheme of revealed theological 'geometry,' is still very real."

Methods and techniques are further considered in the same pamphlet, in one by Leila Anderson: "Our Ministry to Women Students" (National Council, 1932), and in a publication by Christ Church, Cambridge, Massachusetts: "What the Church Does at Harvard" (c. 1940). It is important to record here that all the testimony is that every college locality is different and presents its own special difficulties and opportunities. These must be studied with care by the student pastor.

Let us now consider what manner of man a student pastor should be.

The man who is to do effective work must have intellectual qualities and attainments which command respect, be well up in his theology, and have a mature personality. One clerical witness before the Committee said that he had noticed that when the Church has a man on the ground who knows Christian Theology thoroughly and is able to challenge attacks upon Christianity, such attacks by members of the faculty become less frequent.

The women's colleges and the co-educational colleges must not be neglected. For work in these, devout and highly trained women are needed. The necessary training (which is to be superimposed upon a collegiate course) can be had at Windham House in New York City or at St. Margaret's House in Berkeley, California. Windham House was established by the national Woman's Auxiliary, which since 1928 has interested itself in college work with women.

We shall come later to the question of the place in college work of the local parish, and its rector, but we must mention it here also. In any given college community there may happen to be a church near enough and large enough to accommodate the members of the faculty and of the student body who might attend there; a rector both desirous of serving them and competent to do so; a vestry eager to make his services available; and a parish not large enough to occupy his full energies. But it is wise to recognize that college work is a specialty which ordinarily demands special personnel and equipment. Positive injury can be done the cause by allowing the uninterested, unfit, or overworked local rector to engage in college work. Of course it may and should be possible to arrange for the use of his church. But the ideal arrangement is a chapel on the college grounds served by a specially chosen student pastor, who, however, if he is wise, will urge faculty and students alike to attach themselves to a local parish for their Sunday worship.

The bearing of this brief survey of what might be called the fundamental requirements for college work will be useful, it is hoped, when we approach the third division of this Report: our recommendations. We come now, however, to our second topic, which is:

B—COLLEGE WORK IN THE DIOCESE OF PENNSYLVANIA

It would take some research to learn just when college work was first considered in the Diocese and just when and where it was first undertaken. The exact facts, though of interest historically, are not vital for present purposes. The probability is that College Work was originated in the Diocese by Bishop Rhinelander, who promoted the organization of a group local to the University of Pennsylvania; brought about a Middle Atlantic States Conference of Episcopal students, and set up a Committee on Higher Education in the Diocesan Board of Religious Education, predecessor of the present Department of Religious Education. The Middle States Conference was held in March, 1912: the date is attested by a circular announcing it. The other two enterprises probably date from about that year. Whether or not the Middle Atlantic Conference was again held, your special Committee has not inquired. We will deal here only with the efforts of the Department of Religious Education and of the Committee for the University of Pennsylvania.

The Committee on Higher Education of the former Board of Religious Education submitted on October 3, 1916 (Minutes of the Board, 1914-1920, p. 17), a Report signed by the Rev. George L. Richardson as chairman, which summarized the results of the Committee's efforts "to gain an intelligent view of the situation in the Diocese and of possible lines of activity for the Committee and the Board." There were within the Diocese 16 institutions, said the Report, of a character within the scope of the Committee's interest. Specific information was presented as to the possibilities at nine of these. The Report then concludes as follows:

"It is the view of your Committee that we should continue this work of investigation, and keep the Board in touch with the religious conditions in the student life of the Diocese. If the plan which has been suggested of attaching to the new Diocesan Church a priest whose special assignment should be the work of Religious Education, should be carried out, we shall be in a position to cooperate with such an official. Your Committee is conscious that these preliminary investigations by no means exhaust the possibilities of its service, and will gladly receive suggestions from the Board as to its future course."

During the twenty-five years from the date of this Report (1916) to the present time, successive heads of the Board and of its successor, the Department of Religious Education, kept alive the idea that there was work to be done in colleges, and tried to further it in particular localities or to promote it generally by interesting the local clergy in it. The difficulty seems to have been (for we have not investigated thoroughly the history of the intervening years), lack of a continuous leadership, lack of time, and lack of organization. The local committee for the University of Pennsylvania (of which more hereafter) has received (at least of late years) whatever funds the Diocese could spare for college work, but these have been insufficient even for the work at the University. Failure to define the relationship of this local committee to the Diocese and to the Department of Religious Education has caused confusion.

In 1912 the Rev. John R. Hart, Jr., was assigned by Bishop Rhinelander to the care of Episcopal students at the University of Pennsylvania and gave his whole time to them (Minutes, 1914-1920 of the Board of Religious Education, p. 20 ff.). Money for his salary was furnished by funds raised by a committee of which the present local committee is a continuation. Mr. Hart's work for Episcopal students was done as a secretary (not the secretary) of the Christian Association. After a long period of service he was succeeded in turn by the Rev. Arthur F. McKenny, the Rev. William B. Stimson, and Canon Jacobson, the present pastor. As all of these have worked under the same special relationship to the Christian Association, and as that relationship influences our work with students, it becomes important to digress to describe the Association at some length.

The Christian Association was founded fifty years ago as a college Y. M. C. A., through the initiative of John R. Mott. Until 1898 it was a branch of the Philadelphia Y. M. C. A., but at that time became independent. In 1901 a charter was obtained and the Association was gradually reorganized to function as a joint enterprise of six communions, who govern it through six committees each of which has one or more representatives on the general Board of Managers. The full Board has an authorized membership of 36 and now numbers 31. The Association maintains and operates a building which provides offices, recreation rooms, and a dining room. Each communion pays into a common treasury a specified total made up of itemized charges. In 1940-41 the Episcopal assessment was a total of $2,020, made up as follows:

Use of building.....	$1,200.00
Use of chapel.....	100.00
Stenographic service.....	500.00
Expense of Joint Campaign for Funds.....	220.00

In the Christian Association each communion is represented by a clergyman, as college pastor, with the title of secretary who, beside working with those of his own faith, teaches students of all communions within a field for which he may have volunteered. There are Bible classes and study groups, and recreational and devotional activities taught by those volunteer clergymen. The Association maintains a settlement house and a boys' summer camp which are conducted by students. It also conducts, as its most recent enterprise, an International Students' House, a sort of dormitory and club for students from foreign lands. A very large part of the funds for the Christian Association's building and for its social service activities have come from members of the Episcopal Church. In addition, the Association is trustee of a bequest of $25,000 under the Will of Miss Harriet Blanchard of Philadelphia, who died June 2, 1919. The bequest, which is Item No. 23 of the Fourth Part of her Will (Will Book No. 414, p. 272, Philadelphia County), reads:

"To the Christian Association of the University of Pennsylvania $25,000, the income thereof to be applied in each year to the work of the said Association among students of the University affiliated with the Protestant Episcopal Church."

The Episcopal pastor at the University, although nominated by the Episcopal Committee and appointed by the Bishop, is paid his salary and his expense items out of the Christian Association treasury. The Diocesan annual grant in aid of Episcopal religious work at the University is paid to the Association and not to the Committee.

The Committee is, of course, under the Bishop, and its members are appointed by him, but it is responsible to him alone and has no relationship to the Department of Religious Education or to any other Diocesan agency, though it receives a Diocesan grant.

The Rev. Jacob Clements Kolb has been elected by the trustees of the University to succeed the Rev. W. Brooke Stabler as University Chaplain. A clear distinction should be made between his position and that of the student pastor. The University chaplain is paid by the University to oversee the official religious activities of all denominations. His duties in no way conflict with the work among the Episcopal students referred to in this Report.

It is now desirable to attempt a very general account of the college work currently conducted in the Diocese. Your special committee asks especial indulgence here for any errors or omissions.

Omitting purely Roman Catholic and Jewish institutions, the undergraduate and graduate colleges or universities within the boundaries of the Diocese include the following:

The University of Pennsylvania	Ursinus College
Temple University	State Normal School—Cheyney
Drexel Institute	(colored)
Bryn Mawr College	State Normal School—West Chester
Haverford College	Beaver College (Presbyterian)
Swarthmore College	Lincoln University (colored)
Pennsylvania Military College— Chester

For convenience, we may label the foregoing collegiate, though two of them have graduate departments. In addition there are the medical schools, including:

Jefferson	Philadelphia College of Pharmacy
Hahnemann	Temple
University of Pennsylvania	College of Osteopathy
Woman's Medical College

And the nursing schools include:

Pennsylvania Hospital	Bryn Mawr Hospital
University of Pennsylvania Hospital	Presbyterian Hospital
Jefferson Hospital	Hahnemann Hospital
Philadelphia General Hospital	Temple Hospital
Mt. Sinai Hospital	Episcopal Hospital
Abington Hospital	Woman's Hospital

And the art schools and specialized schools include:

The Moore Institute of Art, Science and Industry	The School of Occupational Therapy
The School of Industrial Arts	Pennsylvania State College of Op- tometry
The Academy of Fine Arts

And although we shall not mention them again in this discussion of college work, it may be well to list for purposes of future reference the following private secondary schools:

Episcopal Academy	Baldwin
Germantown Academy	Mary Lyon
Haverford Grammar School	Harcum
Penn Charter	Valley Forge Military Academy
Friends' Central	Downingtown Institute (colored)
Agnes Irwin	Chestnut Hill Academy
Shipley	Springside

There are also the numerous public secondary schools.

Your Special Committee does not pretend to present either a complete list of institutions or a complete account of Episcopal religious activities in them, but what follows should be useful though incomplete.

Work at the University of Pennsylvania dates from 1912, when the Rev. John Robbins Hart, Jr., was appointed student pastor by Bishop Rhinelander. He served until 1932. Your committee wishes that there had been opportunity to review in detail his long service. At some time during it the Chapel of the Transfiguration at 36th Street and Woodland Avenue, conveniently near the college buildings, was made available for the Episcopal students. They worshipped in the Chapel, and through a student vestry had a large share in its management. This was an ideal arrangement but it was brought to an end in 1932 by the condemnation of the chapel building as unsafe. Previously at other times the work was also centered at the Church of The Saviour and St. Mary's, Hamilton Village.

Mr. Hart was succeeded by the Rev. Arthur F. McKenny, now Dean of Christ Church Cathedral, Hartford, who came in November, 1932, and remained until April, 1934. Of his brief pastorate he writes (in a letter of February 3, 1941, to Mr. Ervin):

"Succeeding the Rev. Dr. Hart as minister to the Episcopal students at Pennsylvania in November, 1932, I found that the work was in a difficult transitional state. The Chapel of the Transfiguration, where the students had had autonomy and those varied opportunities for service which were possible in a Church building of their own, had been condemned. That gave them a keen sense of deprivation and disappointment. . . .

"We borrowed the Chapel of the Divinity School for special Sunday services, and had social meetings and discussion groups in our home, which was very near the Chapel. As the Chapel was considerably farther from the campus than the Church of the Transfiguration had been, there was, of course, a lack of that initiative and interest which come from a sense of proprietorship or special trusteeship. Students could not, naturally feel the same interest in a Chapel lent to them for an hour's service every week as they could in a building which was theirs for full-time use.

"However, the work did have some encouraging aspects, and I am sure was not utterly fruitless. One of the small group of students which I presented for Confirmation went to teach in a Church College in China."

The Rev. Mr. McKenny was succeeded by the Rev. Mr. Wm. B. Stimson. He centered the work at St. Mary's, Hamilton Village, of which he became rector. Mr. Stimson had a double task, that of collecting a new congregation at St. Mary's, the old congregation having very nearly dispersed, and of undertaking the task of student pastor. He did much to bring the students into personal contact with himself at the rectory, and to give them a feeling of the importance of devotional worship. In time, however, the parochial work absorbed more and more of his energies, and in the autumn of 1937 it became necessary for him to entrust the college work to a vicar selected for the purpose: The Rev. Douglass Whitney Kennedy. He served only about a year and his successor as vicar, the Rev. H. D. Gasson, an even shorter time. The Committee in charge next secured the appointment by the Bishop of the Rev. James Howard Jacobson, who is now entering upon his second year of service. Mr. Jacobson, by decision of the local committee, did not become rector or vicar of a neighboring church. To correct this situation he was elected a canon of the Cathedral. Desiring a nearby chapel for college work, he collected funds and had the disused chapel on the third floor of the Christian Association building, renovated for use by Episcopal students. Under Mr. Jacobson's leadership funds were collected and the chapel was renovated for use by Episcopal students and a daily Eucharist is currently held there. Mr. Jacobson is now projecting plans for the conversion of certain offices on the ground floor in a larger and more suitable chapel.

At Temple University work has been attempted from time to time by the men who have served as Episcopal pastor at the University of Pennsylvania, but time and money have been lacking for accomplishment. Mr. McKenny had a weekly group meeting of from 10 to 15 students. The man who works at the University of Pennsylvania has not time to give elsewhere, and that might as well be recognized. The Rev. Carl I. Shoemaker, Rector of the Church of the Annunciation, has done some exploration, the results of which he reported to your special committee. Of the 107 Episcopal students registered at Temple in the season 1940-41 all but 19 live at home. The Dean of Men is cordial and cooperative, but it is difficult to find students in when you call and they do not come to the meetings.

It seems evident to your committee that the situation at Temple needs very special study and effort because of the difficulties which it presents.

At Drexel Institute the situation is also difficult. The Rev. Mr. Stimson had worked there when he was pastor at the University of Pennsylvania, but although he arranged some luncheon meetings, progress was almost impossible for lack of an adequate physical center. Your committee believes that Drexel is also a place which needs special study.

At Bryn Mawr College various volunteer groups, such as choruses, orchestras, and study clubs are allowed to arrange meetings for Sunday morning, which makes it difficult for the student to be in them and do her duty by the Church. Ob-vously this is a place where a competent woman worker is greatly needed. So-called non-sectarian religious services are held in a room in the basement of Goodhart Hall. The room is reasonably adequate in size, well equipped with seats and Oxford Hymnals, but could be made more attractive in appearance. It has no altar. Mr. Willoughby, the organist at the Church of the Redeemer, Bryn Mawr, is in charge of the musical part of the services. Addresses are made by clergy of various communions, including those of our own, on stated Sunday evenings, and after the service opportunity is given for a religious discussion led by the clergyman. Past and present rectors of the Church of the Redeemer and of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Rosemont, have done some work at the college, and each currently has a number of girls from Bryn Mawr who attend its services.

Work at Haverford dates at least as far back as the time of the Rev. Andrew H. Haughey, Rector of St. Mary's, Ardmore, from 1921 to 1927. The Rev. Louis W. Pitt continued the work and his successor, the Rev. J. Gillespie Armstrong, 3d, who testified before your special committee, is also continuing it. He has found the new president, Mr. Felix Morley, cooperative. St. Mary's is the natural center for work at Haverford, at least until some time in the future when a full-time college pastor can be placed there. In the current college season, 1940-41, Mr. Armstrong found 67 Episcopal students enrolled out of a total enrollment of 330. The Episcopal group is the largest in the college. There will be an occasional party at St. Mary's Parish House, to which Episcopal students will be invited, and at which they will be reminded that St. Mary's is available to them. In addition each autumn the names of Episcopal students will be obtained from the college office and they will be sent a written invitation to attend St. Mary's.

The Rev. Walter A. Matos, who served Trinity Church, Swarthmore, from 1899 to 1929, did some unobtrusive work at Swarthmore with the students. His successor, the Rev. J. Jarden Guenther, has been very active, and has found the college authorities cooperative. The great problem is the habit of the college to crowd Sunday with secular activities. Mr. Guenther's work has been subsidized by the Diocese only to a negligible amount. On one or two occasions he has received $25 from the Dean of his Convocation. He thought that with a Diocesan grant of about $200 a year, he could do a good job.

Pennsylvania Military College at Chester, though called non-sectarian, has a personal relationship to the Church at the present time through the fact that Bishop Taitt is one of its trustees. He has been a trustee for many years and as long ago as 1929 the Department of Religious Education of the Diocese reported that about one half the students were attending St. Paul's, Chester. Your Special Committee has no report upon the situation today, not because none was obtainable, but merely through lack of time to hunt up information.

At Ursinus, Collegeville (Pennsylvania-Lutheran Evangelical and Reformed), work is being done by the Rector of St. James, Perkiomen, the Rev. James C. Gilbert, and by the clergy of St. John's, Norristown. This work has not been subsidized by the Diocese. The committee has no facts upon the situation, but the Rev. James M. Niblo, D.D., gave the committee the impression that the work is being adequately done.

In 1929 Archdeacon Phillips was directing the work of the colored clergy at the State Normal School in Cheyney, and at Lincoln University, Oxford. The Rev. Matthew Davis, when he was priest-in-charge of St. Mary's Mission, Chester, and Ascension Mission, West Chester, was working at both places. He has been succeeded by the Rev. Emmett E. Miller, Jr. That is all the information the committee has, but when the time comes more can be obtained.

The Episcopal students at the State Normal School at West Chester have been and are under the volunteer care of the Rev. Jacob Winterstein, Rector of the Church of The Holy Trinity, West Chester. The school has a student body of from 500 to 600 students of whom ordinarily 40 to 55 are Episcopalian.

Three members of the faculty are Episcopalian. Mr. Winterstein holds an annual reception for the students and provides a student service every Wednesday in Lent. From 35 to 40 students attend Holy Trinity on Sundays. The rectory is open to the students and the Rector visits students who may be in the hospital.

Beaver College, at Jenkintown, is Presbyterian. In 1929 some of the students were attending All Hallows, Wyncote. The present Rector, the Rev. Frederick B. Halsey, has the college much in mind.

At the medical schools attempts were being made in 1929 through the Commission on Student Work of the Diocesan Department of Religious Education. The late Dr. Tompkins, of Holy Trinity; Mr. Kevin, of St. Stephen's; Mr. Reese, of St. Matthews; Mr. Jones, of St. Matthias; and Dr. Steel, of St. Luke and the Epiphany, were all concerned. Mr. Rudderow was doing something at the art colleges. The Special Committee does not know what efforts are being made today, if any, in these institutions.

The foregoing concludes our outline of the college work, past and present, in the Diocese of Pennsylvania, and with it the second section of our Report. We come now to the third division of the Report, which is:

C—RECOMMENDATIONS

The problem to be solved is perhaps best approached by stating certain controlling elements of it.

The first is that college work is a specialty. The man who is to do college work should be able to meet members of the college faculty on an equal footing and at the same time to deal with students. He must know Metaphysics, Christian Philosophy, Theology, and Church History exceptionally well, and be acquainted with current academic thought. He must be mature and determined. He cannot do a thorough job of college pastoral work with any considerable number of students and also be rector of a parish, and this is generally true, notwithstanding the fact that some very good work at colleges is now being done by rectors of neighboring churches.

The ideal for every college community from the viewpoint of the Church is a full-time pastor who is also a member of a college faculty, has his own chapel on the college grounds, and is assisted, if the number of students makes assistance necessary, by one or more priests or laymen. The Rev. Dr. Kelley, secretary of the College Work and Youth Division of the National Council, says that about 200 students is the maximum for one college pastor to handle unassisted. The ideal is realized, we believe, by our communion in only one or two instances in the United States at the present time. Nevertheless it is the norm.

For successful work, funds are necessary. The treasury of the Diocese cannot supply them at the present time in excess of the amount of its current grant which is only $2,700. The committee in charge of college work at the University of Pennsylvania has found it difficult over a considerable number of years to obtain funds for its work. These facts taken together might seem to counsel inaction. Your Special Committee cannot, however, give, and it hopes that the Executive Council will not give any such counsel.

It is impossible to do things without someone to determine what is to be done and to direct the doing of it. The Diocese has had a Department of Religious Education. But the Department has been concerned with many things in addition to college work. There has been no organization, and accordingly no impetus.

To your Special Committee it seems very clear that college work presents problems of sufficient scope and importance to require the entire attention of any person or persons entrusted with them. It therefore recommends that the responsibility for college work be placed outside the Department of Religious Education.

If college work is to be under the control of the Diocese, as it should be, there must be a definite link between the people who are in charge of it and the Diocesan organization. This link might be forged by creating a new department of the Executive Council charged with college work or by having Diocesan convention establish a Diocesan commission on college work.

There are arguments and precedents in favor of either proposal. College work is missionary work, and it is also educational work. There is a Department of Missions and there is a Department of Religious Education. Why not also a Department of College Work? So might run the argument in favor of creating a new department of the Executive Council. One objection is, perhaps, that reviewing the work of existing departments already takes so much of the time of the Council that it is undesirable to create new departments.

The link to the Diocese through Convention has the precedent of such bodies as the Commission on Clerical Salaries and Pensions, the Cathedral Chapter, and the Board of Examining Chaplains.

Before we choose the Executive Council or Diocesan Convention or suggest some other link, it might be well to take into account the advice of the Church Society for College Work and of the College Work and Youth Division of the National Council. The present heads of both of these, the Rev. Dr. Kelley and the Rev. Mr. Glenn, strongly recommend the creation of a corporation for college work in the Diocese. They say that this course makes it easier to get money not only because donors are thereby enabled to deduct their contributions under the income tax law but because they are also assured that their gifts will be under the permanent management of the Corporation. Money given for a stated purpose to an organization which is in charge of many purposes not infrequently is diverted from the intended purpose to another.

Your Special Committee favors the creation of a corporation for college work. The Proctor Foundation for work at Princeton is well known, and the Bishop Rhinelander Memorial, another corporation, has recently been established for work at Harvard. There is no reason why there should not be a Foundation for college work in the Diocese of Pennsylvania. The governing board of the corporation could be chosen by Diocesan Convention, thus preserving to Convention, and through it to the Diocese, ultimate control of its activities and ensuring its continued connection with the Church.

The desirability of having a corporation points in turn to Diocesan Convention rather than to the Executive Council as the link with the Diocese.

We need hardly say that nothing should be done to discourage or hamper existing work. The object should of course be to further and extend it, and this can best be done, we believe, by the formation of strong local committees created by the suggested corporation. The membership of these local committees should be drawn from the locality of the institution in connection with which they are created and from the graduates of the institution. Some of the funds for the Rhinelander Memorial at Harvard are being currently obtained from graduates of Harvard who are not residents of Cambridge or Boston. Some of the funds for the college work at Haverford, Swarthmore, Bryn Mawr, and other institutions might correspondingly be obtained from non-resident graduates, as well as from residents of the locality. A local committee will know local conditions in a way which is impossible to any central committee.

Having suggested, at least in outline, the organization which we think might best serve the future of college work in the Diocese; viz., a central committee elected from time to time by Diocesan Convention and constituting the board of a corporation founded and authorized to undertake college work within the Diocese and to administer funds given or bequeathed to it for the purpose; and local committees in the several localities in which college work is being done or may be projected, we still have to consider the question of the inter-relationship of the local committees and of the central one, and the matter of funds. Let us take up the matter of funds first.

It is clear that the Diocese has at present no additional funds to devote to college work. Its grants in the last ten years have been made in a delightfully casual form, sometimes for work at the University of Pennsylvania, sometimes for work at Temple and the University of Pennsylvania, sometimes for work at the University of Pennsylvania, Drexel and Temple, and once for college work without specifying where. The appropriation in 1940 was of $3,000, and in 1941 of $2,700, for work at the University of Pennsylvania, Drexel, and Temple. But none of the money was spent for work at Drexel and Temple. It is paid over to the Christian Association, which pays it out for salary and incidentals to the college pastor chosen by the Committee for the University of Pennsylvania. This pastor has too much to do at Penn to undertake work elsewhere.

A digression is desirable at this point to state the facts as to the finances of the local committee for the University of Pennsylvania, because information on them has been lacking and yet has a relationship to the question of funds for college work in the Diocese as a whole.

The Committee for the University of Pennsylvania has at present three sources of funds. One is the grant from the Diocese, currently $2,700. Another is the income from the Blanchard bequest already mentioned, and the third, received for the first time in 1940, is of $500 from the Church Society for College Work. The income from the Blanchard Fund for the season 1940-41 your special committee understands to have been about $1,300. It is, however, subject to a charge for loan interest, which in 1940-41 amounted to $142.

The Committee for the University of Pennsylvania has an annual budget of some $8,000. Of this it obtains $3,000 from the Diocese, $500 from the Church Society for College Work, and $1,300 from the Blanchard Fund and has to raise the difference of some $3,200 among friends. If the work at the University of Pennsylvania is not to be seriously disturbed—and it ought not to be—the Diocese at least for some time ought not to withdraw its appropriation. It follows, therefore, as stated above, that funds for work elsewhere cannot come from the Diocese for some time.

How then are funds for college work in the Diocese generally to be obtained? Two members of our special committee believe that if the proper organization is provided, and experienced leadership, the nature of the work will be such as to attract funds from those who become interested in it actively through their membership on the proposed central committee (incorporated) and on the local committees. One member of your special committee, who has been for some years a member of the local committee for the University of Pennsylvania, though generously unwilling to oppose the majority proposal, is skeptical of its feasibility. He sees no reason to believe that funds are likely to flow to it more freely than they have heretofore flowed to the work of the local committee for the University of Pennsylvania. This is his only point of difference with the other members of the committee. The present chairman of the Department of Religious Education agrees with the majority of the special committee. He sees no reason why it should not be possible to enlist the interest of laity of exceptional ability and experience; place the whole problem of college work in the Diocese before them; and ask them to work it out to a successful issue. Naturally the working out will be gradual. Particularly at the present moment great accomplishments cannot be looked for in an instant. But there would seem to be no reason why college work cannot be thoroughly publicized in the Diocese and funds gradually attracted to it from those who might not be interested in other forms of religious education.

We pass now to the question of the details of the inter-relationship of the local committees and of the central committee or central corporation and of the composition of each.

The ideal relationship of local committees of this kind to a central organization is one which harmonizes the interests of uniformity and of diversity. There must be large aims and general policies, and not a bundle of small aims and local policies. On the other hand account must be taken of local conditions, needs, and desires. There must be scope and opportunity for local interest and enough self-government to keep it in vigor. The local committee must have some sort of representation on the central committee and yet the central direction must not be hindered by large numbers. Taking into account as many considerations as now occur to your special committee we suggest the following plan:

A nonprofit corporation should be formed and organized upon a non-stock basis (Nonprofit Corporation Law, Section 304). The active conduct of the corporation should be vested in a relatively small board of directors, say of seven or nine persons, meeting twice a month and empowered to employ agents and elect officers. Among the directors should always be the Bishop of the Diocese or his designate; the other directors might include the chairman for the time being of the Diocesan Department of Religious Education; two representatives of the Cathedral Chapter, preferably college pastors chosen by the Chapter, and from four to six lay communicants elected by Diocesan convention. At least two lay directors should be members of some college faculty. The function of the directors should be to serve as a central committee for the promotion of religious education in the Diocese. They should (1) publicize college work throughout the Diocese; (2) determine at what places work should be carried on; (3) organize and establish local committees; (4) raise funds; (5) evaluate and supervise established work; (6) maintain contact with the Provincial Committee on College Work, the College Work and Youth Division of the National Council and the Church Society for College Work; (7) keep a list of clergymen qualified and available for service as college pastors, and (8) hold conferences and retreats for college pastors and for college students.

When the local committees have been organized, representatives chosen by them should meet with the corporation periodically to receive and review reports of the work. Every member of the Corporation must be nominated and elected by the Convention.

Each local committee should be the council of advice of the local pastor or of the local rector serving as part-time pastor. It should raise funds to be spent wholly or chiefly within the locality for which they are raised, and be entitled to nominate one or more representatives to serve as members of the corporation. The number of such representatives to which each local committee should be entitled might be made to depend upon the number of Episcopal students served or upon the amount of funds raised locally or upon any basis considered fair.

It will be seen that it is contemplated that funds would be raised both by the directors of the corporation and by the local committees. The funds of the corporation should be for endowment, promotion and administration, as well as for subsidizing the work in the localities and for the payment of any dues or assessments payable to provincial or national organizations.

The corporation should employ a thoroughly qualified full-time chief pastor or supervisor. Until funds were available for the employment of such a man, it would be necessary for the chairman of the Department of Religious Education to find a properly qualified volunteer who would give as much time to this work as possible.

To carry into effect its recommendations your special committee offers for adoption by the Executive Council the following resolutions:

- (1) That the Report of the Special Committee be received.
- (2) That the Report, when in final form, be printed as a supplement to the forthcoming Report of the Executive Council and distributed as such to the clergy and deputies expected to attend Diocesan Convention of 1941.
- (3) That the chairman of the Department of Religious Education and three members of the Executive Council be appointed and are hereby requested to consult the Chancellor of the Diocese and the chairman of the Committee on Canons for the purpose of submitting to Diocesan Convention of 1941 definite proposals.

Respectfully submitted,

The Special Committee on College Work

REV. E. FELIX KLOMAN,

PERCIVAL H. GRANGER, ESQ.,

ST. GILES MISSION

Under date of August 6, 1918, seventy residents "of the neighborhood of the Sixty-ninth Street Terminal in the Township of Upper Darby and the Borough of Millbourne," applied to Bishop Rhinelander under Diocesan Canon IX (now X) to be organized as a mission. The JOURNAL of 1918 records (2nd p. 13): "A lot has been secured at Sixty-ninth and Chestnut Streets on which it is hoped, in the near future, to erect a building and start a vigorous work." The JOURNAL of 1919 says (2nd p. 17): "A valuable piece of ground has been acquired near the 69th Street Terminal. It is hoped in the near future to start work in this rapidly growing section."

At a cost of $8,500 ground at the S. W. corner of 69th and Chestnut Streets was purchased for the mission in 1918 and a small chapel erected on it. The mission, which had become incorporated, acquired a rectory at No. 47 Ashby Road and placed on it mortgages for $7,000 and $4,000, respectively, the latter of which was later paid off.

On the Chestnut Street site construction of a church began with funds supplied partly by the Diocese and partly by the congregation. But before the building got further than the basement the property had so appreciated in value that it was sold in 1928 for a gross price of $185,500 and a new site (the present site of the mission) was acquired on the north side of Locust Street, between Richfield and Hampden Roads, at a cost of $22,000. On this new site were erected buildings costing $124,244.62.

The financing of the sale of one property and the purchase of the other were managed as follows:

1. The purchaser of the lot at 69th and Chestnut Streets paid $41,470 in cash and gave a purchase-money mortgage for $138,750.
2. The new site on Locust Street was paid for ultimately by funds obtained from a mortgage of $22,000 to the Provi-dent Trust Company, given to refund an earlier mortgage of $20,000 and to reimburse the Diocese for $2,000 in cash paid when the property was contracted for.

3. The buildings erected on the new site were paid for partly out of the cash received from the sale of the Chestnut Street property and partly by money borrowed from the Provident Trust Company on a note for $100,000 at 6% secured by assignment of the purchase money mortgage of $138,750 on the Chestnut Street property.
4. The Church Foundation, holder for the Diocese of the title to the old property and later of title to the new, was a party to the Deeds and mortgages and was the maker of the note for $100,000.

The depression caused the purchaser of the Chestnut Street property to default on his purchase, and the Provident Trust Company, holding the mortgage by assignment as security for the $100,000 note, was compelled to foreclose it, and took the property in its own name. The costs of the foreclosure, including unpaid taxes on the property amounting to $2,268 were advanced by The Church Foundation from its own funds, and have not yet been repaid it by the Diocese, nor has interest been paid on the sum so advanced. The Church Foundation, as trustee for the Diocese, then became liable for taxes on two properties and for interest on the $100,000 note. And the mission was liable on the mortgage of $7,000 remaining on the Ashby Road property, which had not been sold pending the completion of the rectory on the Locust Street site, and by decision of the mission was held as an investment even after completion of the new rectory.

On July 10, 1934, Holy Apostles Parish, which was interested in St. Giles as a possible site to which to remove, entered into a quadripartite Agreement to which the other parties were the Diocese of Pennsylvania, The Church Foundation, and the Provident Trust Company, by which Holy Apostles took over St. Giles as one of its chapels for a trial period to expire September 1, 1936, and became responsible meanwhile for its operation and for interest on the note to the Provident Trust Company, taxes on the property at 69th and Chestnut Streets, and certain smaller charges. The Provident Trust Company added arrears of interest and other items unpaid by the Diocese, on the note of The Church Foundation, to principal, bringing it to $113,726.77, reduced the interest rate from six per cent to four, and agreed not to sell the 69th Street property during that period for less than $100,000, in return for which undertaking, and for capitalizing the unpaid interest instead of insisting upon its payment, the Council authorized The Church Foundation to execute for the security of the Provident a $100,000 second mortgage on the new St. Giles property, as collateral without interest. The Diocese agreed to continue to pay the interest on the mortgage of $22,000, on the Locust Street property, and to pay $700 a year toward the salary of Holy Apostle's vicar there, who replaced the Diocesan vicar. The Diocese further agreed to hand over both properties—the one on Chestnut Street and the one on Locust Street, subject to existing indebtedness upon them—to Holy Apostles at the end of the trial period should Holy Apostles elect to take them.

To this Agreement St. Giles was later made an additional party.

The term of the Agreement was extended from time to time at the request of Holy Apostles; ultimately in June, 1940, Holy Apostles gave notice of intention to terminate the Agreement September 15, 1940, and to hand back the properties to the Diocese, which it did.

In April, 1937, John McClatchy, the builder, was granted an option on the Chestnut Street property for a consideration of $500 a month. He continued the option, and made the payments under it, until May 27, 1940, when he surrendered it.

At the time these option payments began Holy Apostles was in arrears by more than $7,000 in the payment of interest on the note of $100,000 to the Provident, and the Provident, to which as legal owner the option payments were being made, therefore applied them first to the reduction of the arrears of interest, and then to current interest which Holy Apostles had ceased paying. At the date of termination of the Agreement, September 15, 1940, Holy Apostles claimed the benefit of the option payments, amounting to $16,000, as having relieved it from the necessity of paying that amount of interest and admitted liability for only a balance of $1,440. In view of all the circumstances, and particularly of the payment by Holy Apostles under the Agreement of some $10,031 interest, which, but for the Agreement, the Diocese would eventually have to pay, The Church Foundation and the Executive Council went on record as being willing to forego any further claims upon Holy Apostles under the terms of the Agreement, provided that Holy Apostles would forego certain claims it was making for reimbursement of expenditures incurred in the management of St. Giles for six years. Settlement of these matters is still pending at this writing (April 3, 1941).

On November 18, 1940, the Provident Trust Company, legal owner of the 69th and Chestnut Streets property, with the cordial approval of The Church Foundation, its debtor to the extent of $115,962.02 at that date, sold the Chestnut Street property for a consideration of $120,000, less commission, $25,000 being cash and the remainder of $95,000 a purchase money mortgage for three years at 4%. By means of the net cash received, the indebtedness of The Church Foundation to the Provident was reduced to $97,027.05. For this indebtedness The Church Foundation executed two new notes to the Provident, one for $95,000, for which the mortgage of equal amount is held as security, and the other for $2,027.05 without security. It is expected that the interest received on the purchase-money mortgage and the eventual payment of the principal thereof will take care of the larger note. The Council has recently made arrangements for the payment of interest and principal of the unsecured note by instalments without adding anything to the Diocesan Budget, and $500 has already been paid thereon. Similar arrangements have been made for the payment of interest and principal of the advances aggregating $2,268 made by The Church Foundation, as above stated when the mortgage on the Chestnut Street property was foreclosed. These payments are practically part payment for the new St. Giles' property, as the Provident still holds against that property the $100,000 second mortgage mentioned above, which will be satisfied if and when the notes of The Church Foundation are fully paid off.

Since September 15, 1940, St. Giles has resumed its status as a Diocesan Mission and its new vicar is a Diocesan vicar.

APPENDIX H

Report of the Registrar, 1941

The canonical duties of the Registrar have been performed regularly through the year, and the statistical records of the Diocese, viz.: Episcopal Acts within the Diocese, list of Clergymen canonically resident, and of all Churches, Chapels, or Mission stations of the Diocese, with a description of their location and property, appear in their proper places in the JOURNAL

During the year a number of requests for the records of Baptisms, Burials and Marriages from the parish registers of Parishes that are now non-existent have been complied with; and there was received for deposit in the Church House vault the following official books of record: Minutes of the Sunday School Association (1870-1928, 1917-1929); Minutes of the Junior Auxiliary and Church School Service League (1906-1923); and Minutes of the Church School Commission (1917-1928).

H. W. GERNAND,
Registrar.

APPENDIX I

Report of The Church Foundation to the Convention of 1941

At its meeting of May 15, 1940, the following were elected Directors for the ensuing three years:

Rev. F. W. Blatz	Mr. R. A. Morgan
Rev. Franklin Joiner, D.D.	Mr. H. R. Robins
Mr. E. B. McCarthy

During the year 1940 The Church Foundation lost two of its Directors, Edmund B. McCarthy, who died after having been on the Board of The Church Foundation or on that of the Trustees of the Diocese for more than twenty-five years, and most of that time its Secretary, and latterly, Secretary and Treasurer; and E. Osborne Coates, whose resignation on account of continued ill health was accepted reluctantly. In their places were elected William M. Elkins and William White, Jr., the latter being elected Secretary.

One new trust, and one new agency account were accepted during the year, the new trust being one for $4,000 for St. Timothy's, Roxborough, and the new agency account being that for the Trustees of the Clergy Daughters Fund. The latter, being a corporation of many years' standing, and being Trustee of funds in their care could not transfer the trust to The Church Foundation, but did constitute the latter their Treasurer and Fiscal Agent, and most of the Trustees are Directors of The Church Foundation. They turned over cash and securities in the principal accounts of two funds, one of which, at the expiration of twenty years from its founding, which happens this coming June, is to be added to the other, and these two funds, as set up on our books, amount, in principal account, to $20,611.18, at market values in January, 1941. The income of the combined funds is to be used for assisting Clergymen in educating their daughters.

The most important matter before the Board during the year was the question of the sale of the Bishop Mackay-Smith Memorial House, 251 South 22nd Street. This palatial home was built by the late Bishop many years ago and, after his death, was given in trust to The Church Foundation by his widow, together with a maintenance fund of $10,000, for use either as an Episcopal Residence, or as a Diocesan Administration Office. It was about to be altered and used for the latter purpose when the opportunity came to purchase the present Church House, and after that the Memorial House was used as a residence by Bishops Rhinelander and Garland. Since the death of the latter the house has been vacant, costing from $1,700 to $2,400 a year for taxes and maintenance. The deed of trust gave The Church Foundation full power to sell, and provided that if a sale were made after twenty years, which period has now expired, one half the proceeds must be held by The Church Foundation to be available for another residence under the same name, and the other half as a permanent fund, the income to be used in augmenting the salaries of Clergy of the Diocese receiving not more than the minimum salary.

A number of years ago, The Church Foundation, not being willing to take the whole responsibility of selling such an important piece of Diocesan property and one which the Diocese might wish to use as a residence for its Bishop, secured from the Diocesan Convention authority to call upon the Standing Committee for its assistance and advice in the matter of accepting an offer for the property. But not until 1940 did any actual offers come. In the first half of that year there was received what was supposed to be a real offer of $21,000 cash. The first question was, of course, whether the Diocese should keep the property for future use as an Episcopal Residence, or sell it. The Standing Committee gave very full consideration to that question, and decided that, in consideration of the heavy expense of the property (not only on account of taxes, but because, if used as a Residence the Bishop would have to be furnished with coal and given a large extra maintenance allowance) and of the unsuitability of Twenty-second Street as a residential locality, the House should never again be used as an Episcopal Residence. After getting the advice of thoroughly competent real estate men, both the Standing Committee and The Church Foundation decided that $21,000 was as much as could be expected to be realized from a sale of the property, such men considering that the building itself had little or no sale value on account of its size and unsuitability for all but very few uses.

But it turned out that the offer had not been made in good faith, and when accepted, faded away! Towards the end of the year another offer of $15,000, eventually increased to $16,000, was received and, after due consideration, and on the advice of the same real estate authorities, it was accepted, $6,000 to be cash and the balance a ten-year purchase money mortgage at 5%, with yearly amortizations of $500, the purchaser being the owner of a School for Medical Technicians, for which purpose the building can be adapted with comparatively small changes in structure, and its usefulness for which is not likely to be affected by changes in the neighborhood. A contract of sale has been executed and $1,000 paid down, and it is expected that settlement will be made on or before July 1st.

The deed for the Maintenance Fund provides that when the House is sold the net proceeds shall be added to the assets of the Maintenance Fund, and the total divided into two parts, as above described. Each part will have a value of about $11,000, one of which will be invested and allowed to accumulate until it is called for by the Diocesan authorities to enable them to purchase or build a new Bishop Mackay-Smith Memorial House as an Episcopal Residence or an Administration headquarters. The net saving to the Diocese will be about $1,100 a year, not taking into consideration any income, direct or indirect, from the investment of the proceeds of sale.

There is subjoined hereto a summary of the properties and funds in the case of The Church Foundation as of December 31, 1940. Where values are given they are cost, or book values. It would be impracticable to give market values in the cases of mortgages and real estate representing foreclosed mortgages. But as more than one hundred properties to which we hold title in trust are put down at $1.00 each, because we know nothing of their cost or actual value, it is evident that if their approximate values were put down in the statement the aggregate holdings might easily be a million dollars more.

The extent and varied character of the responsibilities involved are such that the work of The Church Foundation for the last six years has required, and, apparently, always will require, the service of a full-time Executive. Moreover, it has required, and, apparently will increasingly require, a great deal of time and thought on the part of the Directors. For this purpose the Board, as constituted by the present By-laws, is not well constructed. It consists of six Clergymen and nine laymen. There is more than enough work for the nine laymen, but very little in which the six Clergymen can help, and it seems unreasonable to ask them to take the time from other things to be present at meetings where they can usually be of little use. On the other hand, it is important that there should be additional laymen, preferably younger men, put on the Board, to become familiar with its work and ready to take over when necessary, as most of the present lay members are well on in years. The Board of Directors are of the opinion that it would be much better all around if the Board consisted of three Clergymen and twelve laymen, the Bishop not being counted as one of the Clergy members. The By-laws provide that they shall not be changed in any manner affecting the relations between the Foundation and the Convention without the approval of the latter. Approval will, accordingly, be asked of the Convention of 1941 to such a change in the By-laws as will make it possible to fill vacancies caused by the resignation, or in expiration of the terms of Clerical members, with lay members, until the number of the former is reduced to three.

APPENDIX J

Report of the Cathedral Chapter

The usual schedule of Sunday Services, Holy Communion at nine o'clock, and Morning Prayer and Sermon at eleven o'clock, Evening Prayer and Sermon at four in the afternoon, have been maintained throughout the year, as well as Services of Holy Communion on the greater Holy Days and Intercessions each Friday afternoon. The Cathedral is endeavoring to care for the immediate neighborhood where for a long time there was felt need for the establishment of a new Mission. The activities among the young people as well as visits and contacts with Parish and Diocesan groups have been carried on by Deaconess Newbold.

St. Michael's Chapel, which is one of the two chantry chapels to be placed on either side of the south entrance to the Cathedral, was completed and consecrated on the Feast of St. Michael and All Angels by Bishop Taitt. It constitutes the one small portion of the Cathedral Church of Christ to be complete in every detail and shows the beauty and loveliness of ecclesiastical art that will characterize the future development of the building. Plans are being studied for the extension of one or more bays as the cost thereof becomes available, in order that the Cathedral may be adequate in size for various Diocesan Services. Several small bequests have become available during the past year.

A few more Parishes have made pilgrimages to the Cathedral when they have taken over the conduct of the Sunday afternoon Services. It is hoped by the Chapter that all of these Services, with the exception of those assigned to the Clerical Canons, will be cared for. This same plan is available for Diocesan groups and societies, making possible a yearly pilgrimage to the central church of the Diocese or in which to hold a Quiet Day or any portion of the day for religious exercises.

Diocesan Day at the Cathedral will be observed this year on Saturday, June 21. This day offers opportunity for Parish groups and Church Schools to picnic on the grounds and attend the Services provided in the Cathedral.

JAMES M. NIBLO,
Secretary.

APPENDIX L

Sub-Committee on Financial Safeguards of the Department of Finance

This Report is submitted for the year April, 1940-April, 1941. For the prior year's Report see the JOURNAL of 1940, pages 330-340.

Acting under permission given by Convention of 1940 (Jnl., pp. 51 and 336) the Committee enclosed its 1941 Questionnaire (Appendix A) with the Parochial Report forms sent out by the Secretary of Convention soon after the first of the year. By a misunderstanding the Questionnaires were sent out to missions as well as to parishes, but only the replies from the parishes are considered here.

These replies number 75 out of a possible 143. They relate to:

- Security-holding by vestries.
- Annual financial reports.
- Accounting for trust funds.
- Listing unpaid bills.
- Audits.

General Convention completely revised its Canon on Business Methods in Church Affairs (No. 53, new numbering). The revision, and the old canon, are printed side by side at the end of this Report (Appendix B). It will be observed that the revision now definitely and clearly outlaws security-holding by vestries. They need not place parochial securities in trust but they must either do that or deposit them under an agency agreement. As trustee or agent, a Federal or a State bank or a Diocesan corporation such as our Church Foundation must be selected, or some other organization approved by the Diocesan Department of Finance.

Not many vestries still hold parochial securities. Out of 75 which replied, only 19 had securities and in four cases these were of negligible value.

Most parishes make annual financial reports to the congregation. But more than one-third still do not make them, or make them only to the vestry.

Of the parishes which enjoy income from trust funds only a small proportion report upon them usefully. The important items of information in connection with a trust are its name, the date of its establishment, its object, its book value and its current income.

Of the parishes which had any unpaid bills or charges to report, about one half report them.

Audits are general (only four parishes out of fifty had none), but vestry audits are still all too common.

A Committee appointed by the Presiding Bishop writes Bishop Taitt as follows, under date of March 20, 1941:

"General Convention, assembled in Kansas City, adopted a revised Canon on Business Methods (Canon 53) which makes the bonding of all treasurers compulsory. The Canon does not qualify itself in any manner but says 'all' treasurers.

"Present fidelity bond regulations prescribe a definite premium rate, a minimum premium of $5.00 (which means you pay for a $2.00 bond regardless of your requirements), and a minimum earned premium of $2.50 (even if you cancel a bond after it has been in force only a week).

"We are led to believe that if we were able to show the volume of bonds written, or to be written, by all the units of the Protestant Episcopal Church we could appear before the Rating Bureau and show cause why our Church business should receive consideration as a whole. The preferential consideration the gross of our business should command should result in:

1. Reduced Premium Rates and/or
2. Reduced Minimum Premium required, and/or
3. Reduced Minimum Earned Premium.

"Any one or more of these three would, without in any way affecting the present method of placing bonds through local agents and in the company of your choice, secure for the Church a substantial saving.

"The price of obtaining consideration of our problem is cooperation in gathering the basic information. Our insurance friends have guided this Committee in the preparation of a questionnaire which will give us the data necessary to make such a presentation."

A Questionnaire enclosed asks of the Diocese, and of each of its parishes, missions, or organizations the following data:

1. Name of person or persons handling money or securities.
2. Maximum amount on hand at any one time.
3. Location (address).
4. Name of parish, mission, institution or organization.
5. Bonded now, or not?
6. If bonded, name of company.
7. If bonded, amount of annual premium.
8. Losses during the past five years.
9. Largest individual loss.
10. What amount of the loss was covered by insurance?
11. Signature, title, and address of person supplying the information.

Financial officers of parishes, missions, institutions and other Church organizations who wish to aid this Inquiry, so promising in its possibilities of economy if completed, are requested to answer the eleven questions indicated above and send in their replies to Mr. Spencer Ervin at Church House.

Accounting Wardens today carry a heavy burden. An article written for The Church News of February, 1940, by Mr. Niessen, of Rocky and Company, who audit the books of the Diocese and those of a number of parishes and missions, suggested some very practical and inexpensive ways of lightening this burden while leaving to the warden full control of major matters. In the hope that it may be made of greater service, this article has been reprinted and is now enclosed with this Report. (Appendix C.)

A further relief to accounting wardens, and one which would also be of assistance to the Diocese, would be the employment of a competent accountant-bookkeeper to circulate among the parishes and missions, visiting each at a time convenient to the accounting warden or treasurer, to aid or advise in the following matters:

"Posting" books.

Preparing annual Reports to Congregations or vestries.

Preparing Parochial Reports to the Diocese.

Advising on bookkeeping.

It is interesting to recall that so far back as 1918 the idea of this kind of aid was seriously discussed in the Diocese. The JOURNAL of 1918 (p. 59) records that the Department of Finance of that time (then called the Diocesan Finance Committee) recommended to Convention of 1918:

"the due consideration by this Convention of the appointment of a Diocesan auditor to audit the book accounts and funds of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, and to assist the financial officers of each parish or mission in their various accounting problems, with a view of securing uniformity, and to act as the auditor of parish accounts."

The members of the Diocesan Finance Committee so recommending were: A. J. County, Nathan H. Davis, James F. Fahnstock, Clarence L. Harper, A. A. Jackson, Frank H. Moss, Ewing L. Miller.

Diocesan Convention of 1918 adopted a Resolution requesting the Diocesan Finance Committee to prepare a Canon establishing the office of Diocesan Parish Auditor (Jnl., 1918, pp. 60 and 96). But in 1919 the same committee requested that the preparation of the suggested Canon be referred to the new Diocesan Advisory Council (Executive Council) about to be created and at that point action on the proposal for a Diocesan Parish Auditor seems to have ended.

The Committee on Safeguards would like to ascertain the possibilities of this idea and suggests the appointment of a special committee of two clergymen, two accounting wardens, and two accountants, to explore it and report to Convention of 1942. The proposal would not be of interest to every parish; some are already well provided for in the regards mentioned; but it has the possibility of a wide enough application to make a study of it desirable.

The Committee submits the following Resolution:

RESOLVED, That the Bishop is requested to appoint a committee consisting of two clergymen, two accounting wardens and two accountants, to consider the desirability and feasibility of the employment of a Diocesan traveling accountant-bookkeeper to give his whole time to the accounts and reports of the parishes and missions of the Diocese; the Committee to report to Diocesan Convention of 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES M. NIBLO,
JOHN C. ROAK,
ROBERT C. BELLEVILLE, III,
P. BLAIR LEE,
FRANCIS A. LEWIS, ESQ.,
SPENCER ERVIN,

Chairman.

APPENDIX C

(From The Church News, February, 1940)

A WARDEN'S LOT IS NOT AN 'APPY ONE

But Here's an Idea That Will End His Drudgery, Make Him a Real Executive, and Help His Parish.

In an effort to lighten tiresome detail work connected with the office of accounting warden, at the same time giving greater protection to wardens and to the funds entrusted to their care, Charles E. Niessen, Jr., a young Philadelphia accountant, has prepared an interesting document. It is the record of an imaginary conversation between "Herbert Helpful," accountant and financial expert, and "Jonathan Smart," business, civic and social leader, and accounting warden.

The narrative points out the disadvantages of the present system, which provides only a minimum of protection for the parish and fails to train assistants to carry on the work, the details of which encroach too much upon the available time of the warden, already a busy man.

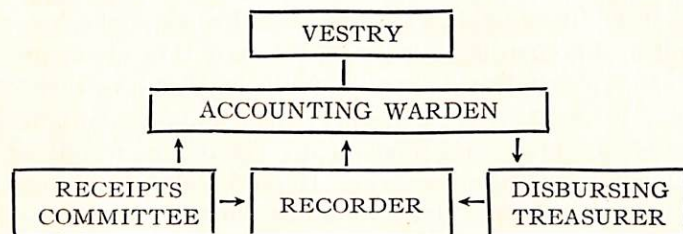

Mr. Helpful's suggestions begin with a proposal to split up the bookkeeping functions—receiving, disbursing, recording, and reporting—among as many different persons, so that no one person exercises complete control over any single function. This would make an intelligent audit a matter of fact, rather than faith, with respect to the actual records and the matters recorded.

With trained assistants to carry on when Mr. Smart laid down his mantle of office, needless mistakes would be avoided and valuable time saved with no inconvenience and risk, because more than one person would have knowledge of the affairs of the parish.

Freeing Mr. Smart from the infinite and petty details of his office as it now exists would give him more time for such important tasks as drafting the budget, supervision of investments, study of income sources and trends, and ways and means to raise funds. Thus Mr. Smart would become an executive rather than a drudge.

Here Mr. Helpful tells of his experience with and study of church accounting systems and financial organizations and sketches out his idea of a well-balanced system, combining the desirable features of the best systems he has studied:

The only change from the present system, Mr. Helpful points out, would be the establishment of a committee and two offices to take over the former detailed functions of the accounting warden, who then would assume a supervising and coordinating control over the persons performing these functions. Since each is charged with only a minor portion of the accounting warden's former duties, there is no great encroachment on any one's time. Yet, the accounting warden, through his coordinating activities, has first-hand knowledge of all that transpires. Further, at least two persons are being trained in the duties of accounting warden against eventual need. Finally, the independent duties and functions of the several persons handling the records provide to a large extent an automatic verification of the work done by each. This is internal control.

It is suggested that the receipts committee consist of six persons, rotating in such manner that two would always be on duty and that each would serve for two consecutive weeks in each six.

The committee would take custody of all offerings, communion alms, poor box receipts, pew rents, plate collections and envelope contributions as soon as possible after all services, as well as receipts from parish social affairs, entertainments, bazaars, etc., for the benefit of parochial or missionary projects.

The committee would count the loose cash; then the envelope collections, noting on each envelope the amounts designated for various purposes, the total to equal the cash on hand from the envelopes. The recapitulation of contributions—loose cash, parochial, mission, poor box, etc.—would then be entered on a form for that purpose. On the reverse side would be entered a summary of the cash make-up including a list of contributions by check. The form is prepared in duplicate and signed by the members of the committee, one copy being sent to the accounting warden and one to the recorder, or bookkeeper, together with the envelopes, which become a basis for entries in the envelope contributions record. The committee also should prepare the deposit slips, retaining one copy and forwarding a duplicate to the accounting warden with the cash for deposit.

An instruction sheet for the committee members would insure uniformity in the performance of their various functions.

The disbursing treasurer would make certain that bills are not paid, or disbursements or transfers made, without approval by the proper authority. This would guarantee that at least two persons shall have knowledge of all disbursements. Upon receipt of a signed and consecutively numbered voucher from the accounting warden, the disbursing treasurer would draw a check, noting on the voucher the check number, date paid and his signature. The paid bill should be affixed to the voucher form, which also would indicate to the bookkeeper the account to be charged.

Unusual or large expenditures for capital improvements, etc., would be authorized for the vestry before being approved by the accounting warden.

Under this system it will be seen that the recorder, or bookkeeper, need not handle any cash, save, perhaps, a small petty cash fund, but merely gathers financial information from the receipts committee, the disbursing treasurer and the accounting warden. The petty cash could even be handled by the verger, or anyone available to make small disbursements. The recorder would be expected to make all entries in the parish cash book, the general ledger (if one is used), subsidiary records, such as the pew rents ledger, the envelope contribution record and the principal and income records of the various funds, legacies, etc.

The reports should be abstracted from the records by the accounting warden after he has reconciled the cash accounts and otherwise tested and inspected the bookkeeping transactions.

A blanket bond should be placed to cover the acting members of the receipts committee, the accounting warden, who deposits funds, and the disbursing treasurer, who draws the checks. A good system minimizes the possibility of ever having to collect under a bond, but the bond should always be in the background against any contingency.

The duties of the accounting warden under such a system may be summarized as follows:

1. Financial Planning:

Preparation of tentative budget for vestry.

Preparation of monthly financial report to vestry.

Preparation of annual report to Diocese.

Study and recommending ways and means of raising funds.

Planning of bookkeeping forms and records.

2. Supervising Financial Transactions:

Depositing funds.

Approving bills and originating vouchers.

Auditing bookkeeping records.

Originating memoranda to recorder in transactions not covered by receipts committee or disbursing treasurer.

3. Coordinating Work of Personnel:

Defining rights and duties of subordinates.

Instructing subordinates in methods of performing duties.

Directing flow of work.

The duties of the vestry in relation to the accounting warden under this system would be:

1. Review and adopt a budget.
2. Discuss financial and committee reports.
3. Authorize extraordinary disbursements.
4. Supervise and order changes in funds and investments.
5. Control changes in personnel.
6. Provide for safekeeping of securities, insurance policies, etc., and bonding of officials where necessary.

Some parishes and missions already employ one or more of the organization features discussed in the foregoing. In such cases it would be necessary only to round the program with a change here and there. Most of such changes could be inaugurated without affecting records already in use. In some instances, however, they might mean the addition of a contribution record, the use of receipt forms or disbursement voucher forms.

Report of the Joint Commission on the Forward Movement and Evangelism

Although these Commissions are separate, each with its own membership and chairman, they have met together during the year, and have acted together in all matters. It therefore seems advisable for them to make a Joint Report.

At the Diocesan Convention of 1940, the Joint Commission presented a program for the coming year, which was approved by the Convention. This program was completed, with a few minor alterations necessitated by changed circumstances, and all projects carried out. The program included a retreat for clergy, held under the auspices of the Retreat Association in Holy Trinity Holiday House, a Diocesan Mission for children, parish corporate communions, a Quiet Day for the clergy, and two series of Diocesan Preaching Services, in Advent and Lent, held in the Church of the Holy Trinity on Thursday evenings. The Joint Commission cooperated throughout the year with the Philadelphia Federation of Churches and the National Christian Mission.

The Joint Commission desires to express its gratitude to the Rector, Vestry, and Staff of the Church of the Holy Trinity, and to the following choirs and choirmasters: Holy Trinity, Grace Church, Mt. Airy, St. Matthew's, Francisville; St. James's, St. Martin's, Oak Lane; St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, and the Church of The Saviour.

In January, 1941, the conduct of the Presiding Bishop's Ten Year Plan, Forward in Service, was placed under the direction of the Joint Commission. The various features of the plan, as directed by the Forward in Service Commission of the National Council, have been carried out as far as possible in this Diocese.

APPENDIX N

Report of the Commission on Rectors' Salaries and Pensions

The Commission, during the past year, has done its utmost to carry out the primary purpose for which it exists, namely, to see that Rectors in Parishes which are unable to meet the minimum salary as fixed by Canon, shall receive a grant, sufficient to meet this figure. This has been done in every instance where official notification has been given the Commission and sufficient information supplied by the Vestries which assure the Commission that all probable sources of income in the Parish have been canvassed. The Commission has rigidly held to this requirement and has made the grants only when detailed data covering Parish budget and Every Member Canvass have been supplied by the Parish making request for the grant. These records are carefully studied. Rectors and Wardens are interviewed and every possible plan for self-help is fully explored before the grant is made. The Commission feels sure that the funds administered are awarded on evidence of real need, in order to fulfill the primary purpose of its creation.

Due to the fact that Parishes were assessed one thousand dollars less in 1940, there was a drop in the balance carried over into 1941 from the balance of 1940, of approximately $1,600. This fact, along with requests from several additional Parishes for aid, made it absolutely necessary to assess the Parishes for the full $16,000, as voted by the Convention of 1940. Even then, in allocating grants for 1941 with the new appeals and smaller balance, it was necessary to ask all the Parishes receiving grants to accept a ten percent reduction, which amount would be paid by increased giving on the part of the Parish. This was not asked of the several Parishes which made voluntary reduction in their original application.

Sometimes the Commission is faced with problems that properly should be met by some other source of aid, yet the need is pressing and every effort has been made to help when the other funds cannot come to the rescue. One such situation has arisen in a Parish where the Rector has been ill for a long time, and another Clergyman has had to be engaged. The Parish could not possibly meet the expense of two salaries, yet both had to be paid in order that their families might live. Properly, this is a problem for the Christmas Fund, but its income is so limited and so few Parishes made a yearly contribution that this Fund could not meet any such emergency. Most definitely, the Christmas Fund should have greater support from individuals and Parishes in order to meet such problems affecting the Clergy of this Diocese and their families.

There still remain a small group of Parishes who fail to have a share in the work of the Commission because they do not meet their assessments. It is difficult to understand how any Clergyman can accept his own salary, knowing there are brethren in Parishes where even the minimum salary is an impossibility. If "bear ye one another's burdens" has any direct application to the Clergy, it surely should find an outlet in striving to have their Parishes meet this most definite Christian obligation.

Again, for the second year, every Parish has paid up six months of the Church Pension Assessment, thus relieving the Diocese of the need of paying out from this fund to meet the requirements of the Church Pension Fund.

The Commission recommends the adoption of the following Resolution:

RESOLVED, That the Commission on Rectors' Salaries and Pensions be authorized to assess for the work of this Commission for the year 1942 a sum not more than $16,000.

JAMES M. NIBLO,
Chairman.

Report of Committee on Seal of the Diocese

I request the appointment of a committee, to consider the Seal of the Diocese, to report in 1942, because this is a national matter, and not a local one.

Bishop White Consecrated 73% of the second Bishops in the United States. Three quarters of your orders are due to the Bishops of Pennsylvania.

Your Shield, as it now is, does not recognize a single Bishop of the Anglican Communion.

The Shield of Virginia Diocese, says that their first Bishop was consecrated by the Bishop of London, which is true.

The Shields of Connecticut and New York show the Swords of the Bishop of London, who was not one of the Consecrators of these Bishops.

It is easy to criticize, but more difficult to suggest a remedy. So regarding this suggestion, it is simply that, remembering that in designing any Ccoat of Arms it must convey definite historical facts incident to the past of the Person, Corporation, State, Empire, or Kingdom.

We consider the Church the Kingdom of God on earth.

It is history that it started in Jerusalem.

A silver cross upon a golden field is the Shield of the Kingdom of Jerusalem; it dates from the time of the Crusaders, long before any heraldic rules were made.

But the Church antedates the Crusaders.

So first there is the monogram of Constantine, recognizing the British Bishops at the Council at Arles, A. D. 314. The Bishops of York and London attended this Council. This monogram is blazoned upon the Cross of Jerusalem and the Cross is planted in William Penn's Estate, recorded by his Shield in 1682, when he came to Pennsylvania.

The Apostolic Succession was conferred upon Bishop White, the first Bishop of Pennsylvania, in 1787 A. D..

The Shields of the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, assisted by the Bishops of Peterborough and Bath and Wells, say they were the Consecrators.

All of the above facts are blazoned on the golden Shield of Jerusalem.

The Mitre as here shown, is the crest of each of the Bishops of Canterbury, York, Peterborough, Bath and Wells, London and Rochester.

In the United States it is only shown in the Shield of the Diocese of New York.

It would seem a mistake to allow all these omissions to be continued, and not claim Apostolic Succession unless we prefer to be recognized as another protestant denomination descended from a Quaker and the Lutheran Bishops of Sweden.

WHEREAS, It is believed that there are heraldic errors in the Shield adopted by the Diocese in 1906, and

WHEREAS, It is desirable, if these exist, that they shall be corrected; now, therefore be it

RESOLVED, That a committee be appointed to consider the Shield of the Diocese, and report its recommendations to the Convention of 1942.

F. A. Pocock.

APPENDIX P

Report of the Committee on the Relation of the Convention to the Diocese

Your Committee, which was appointed under a resolution adopted by the Convention of 1938, reported to the Convention of 1939, generally approving the plan of proportionate representation after investigating the situation in 12 Dioceses, and asked leave of the Convention, which was unanimously granted, to try to get up-to-date data on the systems in force in the other Dioceses of the Church and report in 1940 a proposed amendment to the Constitution. Following that permission, the Chairman wrote during the summer of 1939 to 61 other Dioceses, from which there were 48 answers. A largely attended meeting of the Committee was held on March 29, 1940, to consider these answers, which showed some system of proportionate representation, based directly on communicants, in 26 Dioceses, or an increase of 5 over those reported to our Convention in 1914 by the Special Committee authorized by the Convention of 1913. Then, 4 Dioceses had a system of proportionate representation based on the number of clergy, the underlying theory being that the Clergy are required by the communicant strength of their parishes, which brings a total of Dioceses having proportionate representation up to 30, your Committee assuming, for those who did not answer, that their status as listed in the 1914 report remained unchanged. On the other hand, 36 Dioceses, including many of the most influential ones, have no communicant proportionate representation system, so that the Church is about evenly divided.

The Committee's report of 1939 recommended no decrease in the present representation from any parish, but only a limited increase for large parishes; and the Committee's continued deliberations unanimously reaffirm that position.

It was suggested to the Committee that a basic representation by "communicants" was open to serious objections, among them the fact that many communicants were minors and that a better basis of representation would be those entitled by their parish charters to vote at annual meetings. It was thought, however, that while communicant minors are not generally allowed to vote for deputies in their parishes, yet the proportion of them to the total number of communicants was approximately the same throughout the Diocese, and that to include them in a numerical basis on which all deputies would be selected involved no great hardships on any parish; especially as no other Diocese anywhere, so far as known, based representation at its Convention on "members entitled to vote at parish meetings," as suggested, and that to alter that basis would require an additional item in parish reports and might involve confusion and misunderstanding, especially among some older parishes which have never changed their charter provisions for those entitled to vote at their annual meetings or for annual elections of Vestrymen.

It is very hard to classify all the diverse Diocesan provisions, but some general groupings, where based upon communicant members, might be as follows:

One deputy for each parish, with one additional for each 100 communicants and no upward limit as to number. This is the system in the Diocese of Bethlehem, Duluth, Erie, and Minnesota, and no limit would seem necessary because the congregations are generally not large. Oklahoma has a minimum of 2, with a limit of 7.

Then we have a provision for a single additional deputy if there be more than 100 communicants. This is the plan of Connecticut and Southern Virginia, while Kansas provides for an additional deputy if there be over 200 communicants. Two small Dioceses provide for additional deputies; New Hampshire basing it on a graduated scale from 20 to more than 100 communicants with a limit of 4 deputies, and Vermont on a meticulous scale providing for one deputy for 5 communicants, and running up to 6 for 150 or more.

Some Dioceses provide for one delegate for every 50 communicants, with a total limit of 7 deputies in Fond du Lac, of 5 in Missouri and Springfield, and of 6 in West Texas.

Then we have certain Dioceses with a minimum number and a carefully graduated scale above it; thus Colorado has 3 for less than 200, one additional for the next 100, and an additional deputy for each 200 over 300, the total limit being 8. Harrisburg has a minimum of one, and one additional for each 100 communicants up to 500, and one additional for each 200 communicants over that. Indianapolis has a minimum of one, and one additional for the first 100 over 50, then one additional for each successive 150 up to 600, and one for each additional 200 over that. Iowa has a minimum of one, with one more for successive additions of 50 up to 200, then one more for the next 75, one more for the next 100, one more for the next 125, and one more for each successive 200. Pittsburgh has a system perhaps more complicated than that of Iowa, starting with a minimum of one deputy and ranging up to 15 in successive gradations, each additional deputy representing 20 more communicants than his immediate predecessor. Rhode Island has a minimum of 3, with one additional for over 100 and 5 deputies for over 300, and West Virginia has a minimum of one, with one additional for over 100 and a second additional for over 250.

The Committee has made a recommendation for a charter amendment, which makes no changes whatever in the present setup, but merely clears the way for a future proportionate representation, if, as and when a future Convention adopts a Canon; and if and when such Canon is adopted the basis upon which any increased representation should be apportioned can be then finally determined. By placing the basis of increased future representation in the Canon rather than in the Constitution, it can be changed from time to time without the cumbersome task of Constitutional amendments, and the rights of all parties are safeguarded by a provision that any Canon making a change shall not take effect until after the adjournment of the Convention session at which it is adopted. The present provisions regarding vote by orders, which put all parishes and missions on an absolute equality, remain unchanged.

Your Committee, accordingly, recommends the following amendment to the Constitution:

Amend Art. IV, Paragraph 2, of the Constitution by repealing the words beginning, "Each regularly established," and ending with the word "congregation," and substituting therefor the following:

"Each regularly established Parish of the Protestant Episcopal Church in this Diocese, now a member, or which shall hereafter be admitted a member of the Convention, may send to the Convention Lay Deputies, communicants of this Church, elected by the Vestry from their own number, or from the Congregation, or from their Chapel Congregation or Congregations, but not exceeding three in number except as hereinafter provided for. The Convention may, from time to time, provide by Canon for the election in the same way of additional Deputies, not exceeding two in number from any Parish, in such relation and proportion to the size or strength of the Parish, including its Chapel Congregations, as said Canon may determine. But any Canon providing for such additional Deputies, or changing such provision shall not take effect until after the adjournment of the session at which it is adopted."

APPENDIX Q

Estate of Elizabeth B. Jefferies

To the Diocesan Convention:

The undersigned were appointed by Bishop Taitt to cooperate with the Germantown Trust Co., Trustee of the Elizabeth B. Jefferies Estate, in accordance with the resolution passed at the 1940 Convention.

At our request, an account of the Trust has been prepared, which shows a combined balance of principal and income of $340,371.96. However, a large part of this balance is composed of real estate, carried at its cost to the Trust which is far more than present market prices. The value of the Trust is, therefore, not greatly in excess of $200,000, and the probable annual income, even at present rates, could not be greatly in excess of $7,000.

Under these circumstances, your committee has, after careful deliberation, concluded that it would be unwise to attempt to establish a home for retired clergymen and their wives out of this Trust. The house of Mrs. Jefferies is not tenantable in its present condition, and even extensive, costly repairs would only make it adaptable for two or three couples. To construct a new building to serve as a home for retired clergymen and their wives would consume so much of the principal that the income on the balance would be insufficient to maintain it, with the result that it would be necessary to use the balance of principal for current expenses. Obviously, this would soon place upon the Diocese the burden of maintaining the home.

Under these circumstances, your committee are of the opinion that the moneys in the Jefferies Trust should be used to supplement the pensions presently granted retired clergymen. This would enable the Diocese to care for the older members of its clergy without first forcing them and their wives to live in an institution, and would enable the Diocese to care for a far greater number. We believe that it will be possible to obtain Court approval of this modification of the terms of Mrs. Jefferies' gift. Accordingly, we offer the following Resolution:

RESOLVED, That the Bishop and the Committee appointed by him, consisting of Thomas S. Gates and Clinton Rogers Woodruff, be and are hereby authorized, with the aid and under the guidance of the Chancellor, to petition the proper court to modify the terms of the gift under the Will of Elizabeth B. Jefferies to the end that the income from the Trust created by her Will may be used for assistance to retired or needy clergymen of the Diocese, such income to be distributed under the direction of the Bishop.

Respectfully submitted,

CLINTON ROGERS WOODRUFF.
THOMAS S. GATES.

APPENDIX R

Report of Commission on Music

The Commission on Music met immediately following the last Diocesan Convention and organized by electing the Rev. N. Herbert Caley as Chairman, Mr. H. William Hawke as Secretary, and Mr. Robert H. Cato as Treasurer.

Last Fall and again this Spring series of conferences were held in St. Mark's Parish House dealing with various subjects of practical value to the Organists and Choir Masters of this and neighboring Dioceses. These, as usual, were excellently attended.

The Commission has just completed a third series of conferences, this last one dealing with the matter of Junior or Auxiliary Choirs. This course was requested because of the ever-increasing number of these choirs throughout the Diocese, with the consequent growing interest in the subject.

The annual Volunteer Choir Contest for the Bishop's Plaque was held on November 9 in St. Matthew's Church and the winning Choir was that of St. Nathanael's Church, Philadelphia, which Choir holds the Plaque until the next contest.

The Commission has been requested by the Editor of The Church News to take over and edit the Music page in that paper, inasmuch as Mr. Harold W. Gilbert, who has so very capably looked after it for so long a time finds it impossible to continue.

At the General Convention last October the Commission, with the splendid backing of the Diocese, conducted a booth of Clerical Music under the supervision of the Chairman of the Commission. This opened many avenues by which it was found the Commission could be of assistance not only to our own Diocese but to the Church at large.

Inasmuch as the Joint Commission, appointed by General Convention, is not functioning in such a way as to be of very much practical value to the Church, due, no doubt, to a number of reasons, the Church is more and more looking to Pennsylvania for guidance and leadership.

In the ten days the booth was in operation, in addition to a large number of persons who came to see the music and books on display and hear the records of choir music on hand, and who took copies of Service and Anthem lists and Bibliographies, 207 separate conferences were held with persons who came from 36 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, China, Honolulu, Mexico, and the Virgin Islands, many of whom has his or her own problem. These visitors included 4 Bishops of the Church, 77 priests, 5 deaconesses, and 121 lay readers. And they covered a wide variety of problems to many of which the Commission has since given serious consideration and hopes before long to meet some of the needs brought out in these consultations.

For example—there came from several of the clergy requests for lists of music, organ and vocal, suitable to be used at weddings, inasmuch as some of the compositions frequently heard, such as "O Promise Me," "Because," and the like, are not only uncanonical but definitely in bad taste. A committee is now at work preparing such a pamphlet.

A number of the clergy and choir masters asked for lists of hymns and anthems suitable for the Sundays in the Church year appropriate for the special teaching of the day. A committee is working on that and hopes to have it ready for distribution before long.

Several requests were made for recordings demonstrating the proper methods of Plainsong and Anglican chanting as well as of service music and anthems for use at Choir rehearsals to assist the Choirmaster in his work. A committee is at work on this and hopes, with the approval of the Joint Commission, to supply such records as are needed.

These, taken from rather a long list, are just some of the ways in which the Commission has been called upon to assist the General Church as well as our own Diocese, and we mentioned this to give some idea of the work it is doing.

In conclusion the Commission presents the following Resolution:

RESOLVED, First, that the Commission on Music be continued with power to fill vacancies and to add to its members;

RESOLVED, Further, that the reasonable expenses of the Commission on Music (to be determined by the Department of Finance) be charged to the Convention and Diocesan Expenses Account until further order of this Convention.

N. HERBERT CALEY,
Chairman.

APPENDIX S

Report of Committee on Clergy Placement

To the Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

The Committee organized by electing the Rev. John E. Hill as Chairman, and respectfully reports that it has considered the subject of the creation of a Diocesan Clergy Placement Committee as proposed by a Committee of the Synod of the Province of Washington to the Synod in 1939.

Your Committee is of the opinion that while it might be desirable to create by Canon a Diocesan Committee on Clergy Placement, there should be no mandatory provisions in conflict with the inherent rights of the Parishes and their corporate powers under their charters, but that the duties of the Committee should be limited to ascertaining facts in regard to clergymen and making suggestions to Vestries requesting them.

While the Synod's Report contains many valuable suggestions, yet your Committee is of the opinion that no action should be taken at this Convention but that your Committee be continued until it can have the benefit of the Report of the Special Committee of the General Convention upon this important subject to be presented at the next General Convention. Therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That the Report of the Committee on Clergy Placement be received and the Committee continued.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN EDWIN HILL,
Chairman.

APPENDIX T

Committee on Church Debt

The Diocesan Convention of 1940, after hearing a summary of the report of a special committee on Church Debt made to the 16th Synod of the Province of Washington, which met in October, 1939 (Jnl., pp. 360-61), was asked to create a special committee of five to study the report so summarized (Jnl., p. 37: adoption of the Resolution is not recorded, but occurred).

At the first meeting of the Committee appointed under the Resolution, figures were submitted showing the indebtedness of parishes and missions in this Diocese as of December 31, 1939, compiled from the original Parish Reports for that year. These figures showed that 63 parishes and missions had, as of that date, an aggregate mortgage debt of $846,855.99, and that 60 parishes and missions had an aggregate unsecured (non-mortgage) debt of $235,544.15. Twenty-five parishes and missions were found listed under both headings. In other words, 98 parishes and missions had, as of December 31, 1939, a combined total indebtedness of $1,082,400.14. There is reason to believe that since 1939 this total has been reduced by one means or another to approximately $950,000, as of April 1, 1941. Further study revealed that in the majority of parishes and missions, the combined mortgage and unsecured debt was not over $25,000.

The Committee felt that it would be helpful to supplement this information by inquiries among a few representative parishes and missions, and fifteen were accordingly visited. Taking the information obtained from the 1939 Reports together with what was learned from the sampling visits, the Committee feels justified in making the following comment:

- I. In some parishes and missions current expenses are not being met out of current revenues, and capital is being drawn upon. In some cases expenditure and income can be brought into balance, while in others the situation seems without promise.

- II. Any treatment of the problem of debt has two natural divisions, viz.: the retirement of existing debt, and the prevention of unjustifiable debt in the future.
- III. With regard to existing debt, the following may be said: In the case of parishes and missions where current income and expenditure are in balance, there are two groups. In the first, the existence of debt has been forgotten and no effort is being made to retire it; or, if it is remembered, reliance is being rested upon future legacies or contingencies of some kind for its retirement. In the other group, debt is being reduced by occasional or by regular efforts. The regular annual reduction of debt is a practice which we highly commend.
- IV. With regard to future debt, it may be said, of course, that the creation of debt is often justifiable, and indeed mandatory if certain important objects are to be obtained. It would seem wise, however, to make provision for consultation with a central supervisory authority before debt of importance in relation to resources is created. Local enthusiasm, sometimes generated by unwise leadership, may need sobering or directing.

By the revision of Diocesan Canon XII, adopted by the Convention of 1940, no sale, conveyance, mortgage, or lease for more than one year, may be made of parochial and mission property, consecrated or unconsecrated, without the written consent of the Bishop and Standing Committee, except in the case of burial lots or property held for investment. General Convention of 1940 adopted similar, though not identical, legislation by the addition of a new Section IV to the Vestry Canon (No. 59, formerly No. 57). Insofar as future mortgage debt is concerned, protection has been given. The Standing Committee of this Diocese, at its meeting in March of this year, agreed that its consent would regularly be conditioned upon satisfactory answers being given to certain questions regarding the revenues and general condition of a parish or mission. But a parish or mission may still incur contract debt not secured by a mortgage, and yet for the satisfaction of that debt the creditor can levy upon real estate if sufficient personalty be not found to satisfy his claim. It is therefore possible that the Diocese may wish to consider the control of non-mortgage debt.

As of March 9, 1941, ten dioceses had adopted a Canon originally recommended by the 16th Synod of the Province of Washington, as follows:

"I. No indebtedness shall be incurred by a parish, mission, or congregation, without the approval of (a) both the Bishop and Standing Committee, (b) the Bishop and Finance Committee, except:

(a) Indebtedness for permanent improvements, replacements, or additions to real estate or equipment, where the amount of such indebtedness, plus indebtedness of every kind already existing, shall not exceed 150% of the average annual receipts of such parish, mission, or congregation during the past three years;

(b) Indebtedness for current expenses, where the amount of such indebtedness, plus all indebtedness heretofore incurred for current expenses and still existing, shall not exceed 20% of the total current receipts of such parish, mission, or congregation during the preceding fiscal year; and the payment of all such indebtedness shall be provided for in the budget of the next ensuing fiscal year with reasonable expectation of its payment out of the receipts of the next two years.

II. Provided, that in computing receipts under paragraphs (a) and (b) hereof, amounts from or for endowments or from or by bequests, except income therefrom not specifically designated, and receipts for expenditures other than parochial, shall not be included.

III. Provided, that under any circumstances under which approval is required, it shall be granted only when the payment of all indebtedness shall be provided for in a plan of amortization or other method of payment to be submitted to and approved by the same authority.

IV. This canon shall not apply to the refinancing of existing loans."

This Canon is in effect in the following dioceses: Southern Virginia, Atlanta, Bethlehem, Southwestern Virginia, West Virginia, Western Massachusetts, Western New York, California, Mississippi, and Western Michigan.

The Committee, notwithstanding the adoption of the proposed Canon by these ten dioceses, does not feel prepared to recommend its adoption by the Convention at this time. We believe that there should be more opportunity for consideration of the question of restricting the creation of non-mortgage debt than is afforded by the interval between the receipt of this report by the delegates and the assembling of Convention. It is hoped that during the year from May, 1941, to May, 1942, there may be discussion and consideration of both general policy and specific proposals.

The Committee recommends that it be continued for further study and report to the Diocesan Convention of 1942, and in support of this recommendation submits the following Resolution:

RESOLVED, That the Report of the committee of five to consider the recommendations of the 16th Synod of the Province of Washington, in the matter of restricting the power of parishes and missions to incur debt, be received; and that the committee be continued to study the matter further and report again to the Diocesan Convention of 1942; and, further, that the committee be empowered to add to its own number.

Respectfully submitted,

THE REV. N. B. GROTON,

THE REV. S. R. WEST,

THE REV. F. W. BLATZ, Chairman,

M. J. CREAN,

SPENCER ERVIN, Secretary.
